

Finance Committee Cuts School Budget

Pay Increases for Colleges, UW Faculties Hardest Hit By Groups Recommendations

MADISON (AP)—A $6.6 million cut in the combined budget of the state's nine colleges and the University of Wisconsin was recommended Wednesday by the Legislature's Joint Finance Committee.

Also recommended were registration fee increases for both Wisconsin and out-of-state students. Hit hardest by the committee cuts were pay increases recommended by Gov. Gaylord Nelson for faculty members.

Nelson had included faculty pay raises of 10 per cent each year of the biennium in his proposed budget of $63.8 million for the university and $23.5 million for the state colleges. The Republican-controlled finance committee recommended five per cent increases in each of the two years.

Second Rate

Sen. Horace Wilkie, D-Madison, said the committee had moved "headlong toward establishing a second rate university."

But Sen. Gerald Lorge, R-Bear Creek, said present economic conditions required reducing the pay increase recommendations.

The reductions would take $3.1 million from the university budget, $1.2 million from appropriations.

At the university level, the committee also rejected Nelson's recommendations for increasing present expenditures in specified areas by these amounts:

Clerical Staff

Teacher assistant supervision, clerical staff, counselling and registration, and extension center faculty—$668,850.

Medical, agricultural, engineering and other research—$525,000.

Library books, and building and equipment maintenance—$134,508.

Civil service help, instructional supplies and instructional capital—$96,610.

Library Books

College appropriation cuts in addition to the faculty pay reduction would eliminate increases Nelson recommended in library books, supplies and equipment, and faculty positions and counseling improvements amounting to $301,805.

After voting the cuts, the committee recommended student fee increases which would boost resident fees from $220 to $240, and out-state fees from $600 to $725 in 1961-62, and to $750 in 1962-63.

College fees for residents would be boosted from $200 to $215, non-resident fees from $335 to $405.

Sen. Proxmire Critical of Subcommittee

Attacks Refusal Of Postponement Date for Indians

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., sharply criticized Wednesday night the refusal of the House Indian Affairs Subcommittee to grant a postponement of the date of the termination of federal government control of the Menominee Indian Tribe.

The House subcommittee adopted a proposal recommended by Rep. Melvin R. Laird, R-Wis., which provides for a phased program of financial aids over a five year period. At the same time it rejected a bill offered by Proxmire to give the tribe additional time to solve several social and financial problems connected with proposed termination of federal supervision on April 30, Proxmire said.

"I deeply regret the refusal of the House subcommittee to grant the Menominee Tribe a postponement of their termination date," Proxmire said. "This was unanimously requested by the tribe at its most recent general council and advisory council meetings."

Proxmire added, "Regardless of the final decision on termination I will make an all-out fight for the funds which the Menominee community urgently needs to pay for essential health and welfare services."

Shirt Taxes

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP)—Wading through last-minute income tax returns filed by taxpayers trying to beat the deadline, Internal Revenue Service employees Wednesday found a bulky envelope.

A note inside read, "You might as well take this, too."

The taxpayer had sent along his shirt.

Chief Recommendations in Kennedy Taxation Message

WASHINGTON (AP)—Here are the major topics dealt with in President Kennedy's special message to congress today on taxation:

Tax Cuts—Delay consideration of reductions in basic tax rates until the presentation next year of administration recommendations for broad tax reform. This would involve the elimination of tax preferences and loopholes.

Business Incentives—Provide special tax incentives to spur business modernization and expansion. Allow business to subtract from tax payments a percentage of its spending on new plants and equipment. Give the biggest credits to those firms which increase their capital spending.

"Tax Havens"

Foreign Profits—Prohibit American corporations from escaping U. S. taxes on the profits of subsidiaries in other industrial countries by reinvesting the money abroad. Currently these profits are taxed only if brought back to the United States.

Tax Havens—Bar Americans from using foreign "tax havens" such as Switzerland to escape taxes. This is often done by setting up special corporations in countries with low tax rates.

Americans Abroad—Repeal the tax exemption for Americans living in other industrial countries. Impose an exempt limit of $20,000 a year for those in underdeveloped areas.

Withholding—Withhold taxes on dividends and interest beginning next Jan. 1.

Dividends—Repeal the right to exclude from income the first $50 of dividend income and to Fire Caused More Than $50,000 damage at the Reedsburg Woolen Mills Tuesday. The plant formerly was a subsidiary of the Appleton Woolen Mills. It was sold by the Appleton firm in 1954. The fire broke out in a wool drying machine. Firemen from eight communities helped bring the blaze under control.

Gary Cooper, Movie Veteran Gravely Ill

Sources Close to Actor Say He Knows That Ailment Is Cancer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Sources close to Gary Cooper say the veteran film star is gravely ill with cancer — and knows it.

Cooper

The word followed an announcement by a family spokesman Wednesday that the lanky, laconic actor is critically ill.

Cooper, who will be 60 on May 7, is confined to his Bel-Air home.

The one-time Montana cowboy has starred in 70 pictures, winning Oscars as the World War I hero in 1941's "Sergeant York" and as the duty-bound sheriff in 1952's "High Noon."

Speculation about his physical condition had heightened since the annual academy awards ceremony Monday night. Fellow star James Stewart accepted a special honorary award for Cooper and, addressing him directly into the television camera, nearly broke into tears as he spoke words of tribute.

So emotional was Stewart's praise that a recent explanation of Cooper's confinement—that he suffered a pinched nerve in a movie fight scene—was questioned.

Publicist Warren Cowan announced Wednesday: "Because the Cooper family has been inundated by inquiries about his health since the James Stewart presentation, I am asked by the family to say that he is gravely ill."

Cowan did not disclose the nature of the ailment. This word came afterward, privately, from several sources.

Cowan said there are no plans to hospitalize the actor and that no further word on his condition will be forthcoming for a week or 10 days.

Two Operations

Within the past year Cooper has had two operations, first for removal of a section of his colon. In London last December he finished his most recent picture, "The Naked Edge."

Schooled in England and at Grinnell College in Iowa, Cooper came to Los Angeles in 1924 to seek a career as a commercial artist.

"Pickings were slim in that business," he recalled in later years. "Then I ran into a couple of cowboy friends from Montana who told me I could earn $10 a day by just falling off a horse. I used to do that and more for $10 a week in Montana."

He dropped his aspirations as a commercial artist after working in a Tom Mix movie and discovering that the silent star was paid $17,500 a week.

Egg Timers Used In Voting Booths

MARKHAM, Ill. (AP)—The presence of mechanical egg timers in voting booths had the political pot boiling in this Chicago suburb today.

Charges of harassment were being hurled by the United party, whose candidates Wednesday were all write-ins.

Virginia Cartner, United candidate for village clerk, said the egg timers were "an attempt to harass voters and to keep them from completing a good write-in ticket."

The village clerk, Charlotte Centner of the Independent party, said the timers were used to prevent United party voters from monopolizing the voting booths.

Russell J. Gardner of the United party was elected village president by write-ins. Mrs. Centner was re-elected clerk.

Information Work Costs $1.6 Million

ASNE Committee Report Criticizes Two Departments

WASHINGTON (AP)—It's taking about 460 men and $1.6 million to handle the Pentagon's public relations this year.

A lot of money in everyday terms, although the outlay has been diminishing slowly for several years.

Whether the flow of information from the Pentagon has also diminished is a matter that is being debated.

The Freedom of Information Committee of the American Society of Newspaper Editors (ASNE) has submitted a critical report and aimed mostly at the State and Defense departments.

Information Policies

Involved is the Kennedy administration's freedom of information policies. Newsmen also had complained of restrictive policies under the administration of Dwight D. Eisenhower.

The newspapers editors' committee contended Tuesday that Kennedy was on record "as believing in freedom of information and in his duty to see that the people are informed."

But, the report said, "neither he nor his administration has lived up to his promises."

The White House, in a letter from news secretary Pierre Salinger, said the committee's statement was inaccurate.

The President, he said, expects only information bearing on national security to be withheld "and would welcome reports of any violations of that policy."

National Security

Much of the information bearing on national security, of course, develops in the Pentagon.

The Pentagon public relations budget has been diminishing slowly for several years—chiefly as the result of ceilings put on expenditures by Congress. The pending budget for next fiscal year will trim the figure a little more.

The $1.6 million being spent during the fiscal year ending next June 30 isn't all the military spends for public relations. It covers the operations at headquarters in Washington. It does not include public relations operations carried on by the services outside Washington. This could bring the total "PR" bill near the $2 million mark.

To Receive Degree

RICHMOND, Ky. (AP)—Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson will receive an honorary doctor of laws degree June 1 from Eastern Kentucky State College, the first honorary degree ever given by the school.

Johnson speaks that date at the commencement and will break ground for a $2.2 million physical education plant.

Competing Proposals On Income Tax Law Given to Committee

Turned Back to Authors After Three Hours of Testimony

MADISON (AP)—Democrats and Republicans Wednesday presented competing proposals for simplifying Wisconsin's income tax law to the Senate committee on Labor, Taxation, Insurance and Banking.

After three hours of testimony, the committee turned the plans back to their authors to find out how much they would cost the state in tax revenue.

Each measure would base state income tax returns on federal forms and codes, clarify the rules and allow taxpayers to file on simple business machine cards.

Technical Changes

Assemblyman Thomas Barland, R-Eau Claire, said the GOP bill was intended to "bring about technical changes without disturbing the revenue impact."

The Democratic bill has the same aim and it would not affect the tax rate, said Sen. Robert Dean, D-Wausau, its sponsor.

John Gronouski, state commissioner of taxation, opposed both on the grounds they were "not consistent with good tax law and an effective enforcement program."

Gronouski's plan for a tax simplification measure is incorporated in Gov. Gaylord Nelson's tax program.

Six Month Study

The governor's simplification measure grew out of a six month study by the Department of Taxation, Gronouski told the committee. "It incorporates the most significant features of the two bills before you today," he said.

Supporters of the two simplification measures spent most of the time questioning fiscal notes of the tax Department attached to the bills.

Dean's came back with an estimate that his bill would cost the state $4.7 million in revenue. The Republican bill had a price tag of $7.1 million.

Gronouski admitted that some mistakes had been made in the fiscal notes and committee chairman Alfred Laun, R-Kiel, asked the two groups to get together on the differences and report back in two weeks.

Democratic supporters agreed following the hearing that the proposals were not compatible with the governor's tax program.

"But it's a political fact of life that the Republican controlled Legislature isn't going to accept the governor's revenue program anyway," said Senate Democratic Leader Robert Moser of Milwaukee.

OSHKOSH — An estate estimated at $90,000 was left by the late David Lager, Neenah, a former Neenah policeman.

A petition for administration of his estate was filed Tuesday with County Judge Herbert J. Mueller, listing his estate at $50,000 in personal property and $40,000 in real estate.

Listed as heirs were his widow, Edith, and a daughter, Birgit M. Mesko, Green Bay.

The will of the late John Stanjak of Menasha, a former Marathon Division official, left his estate, estimated in excess of $10,000, outright and in trust to his widow. Upon her death, 25 per cent of the estate shall go to a granddaughter, Barbara Stanjak, Neenah, and the balance to his daughter, Beatrice Kosloske, Neenah.

Humane Group Elects Two New Directors

Deodorized Skunk Among Pets Cared For Since Easter

Outagamie County Humane Society Tuesday elected Mrs. L. V. Bower, 1621 W. Reid Drive, director for three years and Daniel P. Thelen to a 5-year term on the board. Mrs. Thelen will fill an unexpired term.

Meeting at the courthouse, the society also returned four directors to office for three more years. They are Miss Pearl D. Fellows, Mrs. C. L. Kramlich, John Conway and Miss Marion Miller, all of Appleton.

The annual report for the shelter on Weimar Court stated that 2,651 animals were handled between Feb. 1, 1960, and April 14, 1961.

Mrs. Jesse Erlanson is shelter manager. A total of 175 complaints were answered, 396 animals placed in homes and 108 animals returned to owners.

Since a newspaper story soon after Easter reported that the society would take Easter pets, it has been called on to care for 65 chicks, 10 ducklings, four rabbits and a deodorized skunk.

Construction of the Humane Society's new shelter near Mackville will begin this month, President Fred Heinemann said. It will be a 52 by 14 foot building with fourteen 20-foot outdoor runs and indoor pens for the animals.

Official U.S. Population Put at 182,714,000

WASHINGTON (AP)—The nation's total population was estimated officially Tuesday at 182,714,000 as of March 1.
The Census Bureau said this figure includes members of the armed services abroad. With the overseas forces excluded, the population on March 1 was 182,018,000.
Since Jan. 1, the bureau estimates, the total population has increased by 457,000.
In the 1960 census, the population was listed at 179,323,175, exclusive of servicemen abroad.

purposes in spite of endorsement of such a proposal last December by a Legislative Council study committee.

The impression at the state capital today is that the legislature is likely to ignore the plan for a reworking of congressional district boundaries to take into account the population changes shown by the 1960 census.

Change Districts
The council study suggested a revision of districts to make the lower population districts of the northern and western sections of the state larger, and to reduce the populations within those of the southern and eastern districts.

The study committee noted in its report to the legislature that because the new census did not change the Wisconsin congressional quota of 10 representatives, a reapportionment under a strict construction of the laws is not mandatory.
But the committee urged the legislature, nevertheless, to apply the principle of "equity of representation" to the congressional district boundaries.

Great Change
The variation in the numbers of inhabitants of existing Wisconsin districts, unchanged for 30 years, is considerable, and ranges from a low of 236,000 in the far northern Wisconsin 10th District to 530,000 in the Second District, embracing the counties surrounding Madison.

When the original discussions of congressional district boundary adjustment were heard, several Wisconsin incumbent congressmen objected to the specific remapping proposals as they affected their own situations.
In the statehouse view, the quiet reluctance of the incumbents to race up to changes in their local political arrangements is contributing to the apparent indifference among state legislators to the council suggestion for congressional redistricting.

Cutting Corners in Madison

We have expressed reservations about the "dummy corporation" method the state government has used to put itself into debt that cannot be contracted directly under the constitution. Now the developments at the statehouse in Madison are revealing some short-cuts in the operations methods of those corporations that must prompt more doubting about the legitimacy of this back door method of borrowing cash for public purposes.

This is one of the sour fruits harvested from this circuitous borrowing device that has developed at Madison. The State Agencies Corporation is not the state, in terms of the statutory law that governs the "state". As it turned out, there is no reason to be suspicious of the motives of the building commission in this instance. But it is a useful example of the erosion of normal and democratic controls in handling public business that we have invited.

More recently the building and mechanical contractors' trade associations, flanked by officers of organized labor, turned up to protest that the state department of administration is defying the intent of the law in the advertisement for bids on these buildings that are being financed by a "dummy corporation." The law absolutely requires the soliciting of separate bids for general construction and for the mechanical contracts involved in public works in the state, they pointed out. But because this corporation is not "the state," it is not confined by those requirements.

Again, the department of administration may very well be saving some money by using the loophole in the law that is offered. The bidding figures expected soon will show. The disturbing fact here is that public policy, as deliberately established by the legislature and past governors, is being flouted by these corporations which pretend that they are not public agencies. That they are public agencies is obvious to everyone, to the underwriters who would not take their debentures otherwise, to the state officials who are running them by virtue of their public authority, and to the taxpayers whose payments will be collected to pay the amortization costs over the next 40 years. What Wisconsin needs is a debt policy that doesn't make cynics out of its officials.

Another Ban

The governor of Florida is considering a bill to outlaw cut-rate liquor advertising. The governor of Alabama is introducing a bill which would put all liquor advertising in the hands of the State Liquor Control Board, would ban all color liquor ads or anything which "encourages the use of such beverages."

Every time legislators and executives get into the dubious field of making laws for morality a lot of relevant questions come up. It is obvious that "many evils come from excessive drinking," as the Florida governor asserts. It would be nice if no one ever drank too much, or swore, or gambled, or committed adultery. But how effective can legislation be?

In Wisconsin we have banned gambling, including church bingo games, because of the rackets which follow the game. But are the people of Wisconsin any holier because of the ban? The governor of Florida says some of the evils of drink include "holita and B-girls" but there is no proof that they come because of liquor sales. Rather they are to be found in the expensive supper clubs from which the state of Florida makes a large tax profit.

As Editor and Publisher pointed out, what if the Alabama governor next decides that cigarettes are harmful, that cars kill a lot of people or candy leads to obesity? Are these, too, to be banned or excluded from advertising?

In the field of morals we doubt that much can be accomplished by law or censorship. The radio industry prohibits advertising anything stronger than beer or light wines on the air waves but there is no evidence that radio listeners drink less hard liquor (or more beer) than do magazine, newspaper or billboard readers. No one publicly advertises narcotics for a kick, but sales of heroin and marijuana make big profits for some people. To paraphrase an old saying, if there weren't any sin in the world, man surely would invent it.

We are not being facetious. There is obviously a liquor problem in the world today just as there are many moral problems. But we see no evidence that anything smacking of prohibition or censorship, whether it is of liquor ads or girlie magazines, improves the morals of a society. The desire for sobriety and a high sense of values come from a far different source than restrictive legislation.

Learning From Our Southern Neighbors

One of the results of the increased liaison between Latin American nations and the United States is the building of the Pan American Hospital in Miami, scheduled for construction this year. Of interest to Americans accustomed to our type of hospital is the fact this new one is being planned to allow relatives to stay with patients in the "standard practice in most Spanish speaking countries."

Hospitals in the United States probably have the most advanced equipment and educated personnel of any institutions in the world. Patients requiring special surgery or newly devised methods of care now come to the United States. But American hospitals in general have been built and operated for the convenience of doctors and sometimes nurses rather than for the patients. The rigid schedules have been on the joke lists for years. Not so funny, however, are the experiences of young children, swept away into the terrifying atmosphere of injections, anesthetics and strangers without a familiar face and a reassuring hand. The standard reply, that parents interfere with needed treatment, is becoming outmoded as more and more people realize the psychology of security needed for the best results from any treatment.

The World Health Organization last month recommended that mothers be hospitalized along with their children. "Separation from the mother when the child is in pain can be a terrifying experience inflicting lasting damage," said the report. And the vice-president of the Pan American Hospital says almost the same thing. "When a child is hurt or sick he naturally turns to his mother. It is a cruel thing to walk into a children's ward in a hospital and see a child calling frantically for her."

In the last few years this trend toward intelligent cooperation with the parents of young children has been recognized. The "live-in" policy used in some hospitals for mothers and newly born babies is an example. At other major hospitals there is the apartment arrangement where parents may live while their children are undergoing long term treatment for both mental and physical disorders. Many small hospitals permit extensive visiting hours for parents of small children.

But in general the staffs of most American hospitals have a long way to go in encouraging rather than frowning upon the presence of relatives, particularly the parents of young children. There is, to be sure, both a cost and a nuisance problem. But the results ought to tell the story.

Potomac Fever— by Fletcher Knebel

What this country needs, department of space. Those fellows who invent instant everything ought to give a little attention to instant thrust.

Bombs and fires explode in Cuba. Castro blames Eisenhower and Kennedy. Ever since Fidel shot his first round of gold, all hell has broken loose.

The Soviets' man-in-space wasn't such a blow to our prestige as it first seemed. After all, all the Russians have done is catch up with the monkeys.

Predicted verdict of the big trial in Israel: "The Eichmann Goeth."

Ode to Yuri Gagarin's wild reception in Moscow. Now hail the fellow who rose much higher than any'd suppose. His speaking was humble with nary a fumble— cause Pravda invented the prose.

Critics say if our government had only turned over the outer space effort to private enterprise, by now we'd have a chain of Cosmo Hiltons up there.

Income Tax Is Called Forced Levy

Do you like the income tax? Is it necessary? Has the federal income tax made a bookkeeper of your wife, or, do you do all this work free for your government? The income tax is a tax on "sharp touch" or forced levy based on your productive effort in terms of your reward for that effort. It is a punishment that tends to decrease that effort with a consequent tendency for your own production to be less and for those whom you might employ to become unemployed. As we have recently seen, these unemployed become beneficiaries of government largesse out of income tax money, thus calling for an increase in taxes. This increase completes the vicious circle by leading to more unemployment calling for further increase, etc., etc.

In general terms a man's income is a measure of his worth to the community. To assess and penalize that worth has the effect of reducing the individual to the status of the soviet citizen. The trend is evident today and was foreseen in the communist dialectic where the income tax is regarded as the chief weapon for the imposition of communism in any other country.

The Appleton Post-Crescent revealed high journalistic standards in informing the public on previous occasions of the proposed constitutional amendment for repeal of the income tax. H. J. Res. 23, already introduced in congress and formally approved by four sovereign states of the union. Sincere citizens throughout the country actively oppose this misapplied tax and favor repeal.

Neenah School Possibilities Not Fully Studied, Writer Claims

Editor, Post-Crescent:

It seems nowadays nobody ever has the foresight or courage to suggest less costly means of financing public education and other government affairs. The Citizens Committee, appointed by the Neenah School Board, has recommended that an addition be built for Neenah High School. Since no objections were raised by anyone in your article of April 17 or other solutions offered, I wonder why?

(1) The possibility of split sessions was not explored. This is in effect in many top high schools in the country, and would double the capacity to a hypothetical figure of 2,140 students. This would suffice through 1968.

(2) The actual capacity of 1,070 students was not closely scrutinized—comparing students per square foot to other area schools. If 1,200 students are presently enrolled, then the so-called capacity figure is fictitious. Obviously, if the school can handle 1,325 next fall, its capacity must be somewhere above that figure. Quite often, capacity figures have a built-in conservatism.

(3) Expected enrollments beyond 1968 were not published. Perhaps they level at that point or even begin to diminish slightly.

(4) Educational television was not considered. By 1968, the critical year in this report, a fine school system such as Neenah has could certainly utilize this practical visual method of teaching. This would decrease space requirements.

Advantages to be gained by avoiding a high school addition, or certainly not one as large as anticipated by the Citizens Committee report, by use of techniques mentioned above and others unmentioned, would be:

(1) Lessening the sharp property tax rise Neenah has had during recent years.

(2) Saving money from a proposed high school addition would enable higher teachers' salaries. Split sessions, would of course require higher salaries, but it would be much better and less

Fears Schools Failing to Teach How to Live Full Life

Editor, Post-Crescent:

Recently I had a very pleasant and lengthy chat with several high school-age girls. We talked about teachers who still were at the same schools teaching the same subjects as they had when I attended there. They told me of new teachers and new methods. On one point, though, we agreed and were mutually surprised, that a situation which existed 15 years ago, exists now and has probably always been recognized and yet very little ever has been done about it.

What we were talking about was the unrealistic approach to everyday living that is taken by so many educators. I can see their views about trying to spotlight the highest ideals for our young people in the hope that they will strive to do their best and achieve the largest measure of success that they are capable of attaining.

I feel though, that in their efforts to impress the young people with the need in the world today for atomic scientists, educators of the highest caliber, and diplomats, that they fail to stress what a mess this country would be in if we should suddenly find ourselves without qualified garbage collectors, sanitation plant supervisors or tissue mill production workers. Give that some thought, please!

The girls felt, also, that very little is offered to help them become good wives and mothers as most of them will be. Blessed is the man who has a wife that can bake bread, sew up a storm coat and keep the house spotless, but cursed is he if she cannot control their children, has no interest in his work or in anything that goes on beyond her neighborhood. Blessed is the family that has a mother that is proud of her job and does not look upon it as a punishment of menial labor that must be endured until the children are old enough, if not less needing of her, to get an "interesting" job elsewhere.

How many of you had the experience during your school life that I did? It seems amusing now. By my junior year of high school I had decided to abandon my ideas of becoming a teacher, interior decorator or secretary and wanted to be the best wife Marilyn Nelson ever had. I thought the right approach to this would be to enroll in a home economics class. There were 18 girls in the class. Two of them were from large families and had taken the cooking class to fill in an extra credit. The other 15 were girls from farm homes. I was an only child and Mom had taught me how to open a Jello package. The teacher showed us how to prepare a chicken for roasting. I didn't know they were allowed to sell chickens with the innards in them while the rest of the class not only knew how to prepare the fowl but how to tell it was a roaster, not a fryer, how to pluck feathers and one even told how to catch the bird and wring it's neck.

I doubt I need mention more although I would like to offer the recipe we used to make creamed cabbage to anyone who could possibly use it.

Dragging this subject out would add very little. I hope I have been able to express my point of view. While politicians, parents and educators are talking and thinking in terms of television teaching, scientific "step-up" program and progressive programs, I hope they will not get their heads so far into the clouds that their feet no longer touch ground. I hope that our schools will turn out more and more well-educated young men and women but that they also will be schooled in the ways of our everyday living so they can cope with it, live it, love it and enjoy it to the fullest extent that it was meant to be.

Volunteers Shoot in Baltimore

100 YEARS AGO

Quoted from the Appleton Motor for April 23, 1961.

(Editorial correspondence from Francis A. Ryan, Appleton, one of the two editors and proprietors of The Motor.)

Washington, April 19, 1961 — Troops flock in here daily. With a shameful disregard of human life, some of the later car-loads have fired upon the Baltimore "roughs," killing about a dozen. All the roughs asked was the privilege of amusing themselves by throwing stones at the train! These Massachusetts volunteers have thus exhibited the latest phase of New England fanaticism.

This Secession madness will be pretty sure to comfort us with a very ugly question in the north, viz.: Is it safe to tolerate slavery at all? You can guess readily what kind of work such an issue will make.

The avalanche of public opinion at the North is just what was needed. It is no time to falter about effete party names or hatreds when treason, theft, perjury and murder stalk through the land with unblushing mien. The Union — it must be preserved!

You may not hear from me for a day or two. Tonight, I handle my shooting - stick, if needed. Last night I noticed A. B. Jackson, Prof. Daniels, Andrews and other Badgers on duty for their country. With such illustrious examples, I may not hesitate at the stern call of duty.

Under the Dome Assembly Again Bows To Special Interests

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

MADISON — Rarely has a legislature so obviously accommodated itself to the demands of special interests as when the public interest as when the assembly, in repeated votes during the last month, spurned the request of the state traffic patrol for a clarification of its duties and powers.

Submitted to a jury of representative Wisconsin citizens and taxpayers, there can be little doubt about the outcome of the question of whether a state patrolman should be permitted to arrest anyone whom he observes committing a crime or a misdemeanor in the course of his patrolling of the public highways.

The fact that the patrolmen do not now have such powers, moreover, is largely a matter of "historical accident", as Gov. Nelson has put it. The issue never was considered seriously when the patrol was established on its present lines six years ago. The assumption was that if a traffic patrolman encountered a man in the act of committing murder, he would apprehend him and turn him over to the authorities. But in an opinion from the attorney general a few years later, it was discovered that the original statute did not bestow such jurisdiction.

Wyngaard

"accident" of original draftsmanship. It was conceived and written with extreme care by an interim committee, members of which were realistically aware of the jealous watchfulness of the county sheriffs and county traffic officers. Indeed, it was drafted so carefully that there was a general assumption that it was an agreed bill and that it would be waved through to passage with token opposition, if any.

But when the bill came up for a vote, the whole powerful local officer lobby was thrown against it. What might have seemed to be a routinely logical correction of a tiny flaw in the wording of a statute turned into one of the big political fights of the season, and proved also to be another demonstration of the commanding political power of the local law enforcement interest.

There are whole regions of the Wisconsin map where, on the face of it, there is not enough police manpower to provide even a pretense of public protection. But the local officers jealously insist that the state shall not provide it, even if it cannot or is not provided through local resources.

When the state patrol was established along its present lines in 1955, it generally was understood that the 250 man force was the beginning. Ultimately, the authors said, the establishment should grow to 500 to 600 men. But it is now perfectly evident that the patrol is not going to grow, and that it is also going to be restricted in its law enforcement function.

CORRECTION

The bill that was fought over so bitterly in half a dozen engagements on the assembly floor merely proposed to correct that

BITTERNESS

The bitterness of the charges of the anti-patrol legislators must have puzzled, at the least, and shocked, at the most, those who were listening the other day.

One after another they got up to accuse the patrol of conspiratorial designs against the integrity of local police jurisdiction, of sly pressure tactics, of political campaigning while in uniform, and other improper hopes and acts.

One assemblyman solemnly asserted that a couple of state policemen called on him one day with pistols at their hips. He was clearly suggesting that they were threatening him. One wonders why he didn't take his complaint to the district attorney, who also is a defender of local law enforcement. The gallery listener wonders, indeed, if these legislators believe what they were saying, why they don't move for the outright abolition of the state traffic law enforcement arm for the protection of civil liberties and democratic government.

Physicist Says U. S. Must be Prepared to Fight for Space Use

CONCORD, Calif. (AP)—Space has become so important that the United States must be prepared to fight for the freedom to use it, says Dr. Edward Teller.

"The communists will do everything possible to impede our space," the famed physicist told a symposium of nuclear scientists.

Russia's feat of orbiting a man and returning him to earth safely is another clear indication of the missile gap between the two countries, he said.

He declared an atomic gap would be much more serious than the missile gap and added that the same mistake is being committed in the field of nuclear explosives.

Peace Lutheran Hopes to Build Church in Future

NEENAH — The Rev. Kenneth H. Wessel, pastor of the newly created Peace Lutheran Church, told Neenah - Menasha Optimist Club members Tuesday noon that congregation members hope to build a permanent church near the southern limits of Neenah between County Trunk A and S. Park Street in the future.

Peace Lutheran Church is a mission church of the Missouri Synod and meets in the Neenah recreation building. The Rev. Mr. Wessel said Neenah was considered a priority city because of its growing population and because there was no Missouri Synod church here.

7,906 Motorists Lose Licenses in 3 Months

MADISON (AP) — A total of 7,906 motorists lost their driving privileges during the first three months of the year.

The State Motor Vehicle Department has announced that most of the revocations and suspensions were for 60 days. The total included 6,067 motorists convicted of serious moving violations or enough demerit points to be deprived of driving privileges.

The statute requiring proof of responsibility in accident cases brought suspensions for 1,839 drivers, who may have their licenses restored when they arrange for settlement of damages against them in accidents.

On a tip from Jerald A. Kersten, 31, 1415 N. Bennett St., who Saturday admitted taking part in nine break-ins, Outagamie County Sheriff's Lt. Jack Zuelzke walked State 76 between Bear Creek and Bear Creek Corners and found more of the stolen items. Along the highway, a bank book, sales slips and a $9 check taken from the Farmco feed store, Bear Creek, were found.

The two admitted burglaries in Outagamie, Waupaca, Winnebago and Shawano Counties after nearly two days of questioning. Kersten pleaded no contest Tuesday to eight counts committed in Outagamie County, but was not sentenced.

Harold Engerson Jr., an Appleton policeman and skindiver, probed the Fox near Kurz and Root Co., 232 E. North Island St., for nearly two hours early Tuesday afternoon before he found the small cash box in the murky waters. Kaukauna Police Chief Harold Engerson, the diver's father, and Kaukauna Police Sgt. William Nagel assisted in the diving effort.

The checks in the cash box totaled $107.

Kennedy Offers Tax Plan to Spur Business

Another major proposal would affect most stockholders in American corporations. They now may exclude from income the first $50 of dividends received each year ($100 on a joint return). Kennedy would repeal this benefit plus the special tax credit they now may claim. The credit is equal to 4 per cent of all dividends received after the first $50.

Kennedy said such changes would add $450 million a year to revenues.

Incentive Key Item

The key item, and perhaps the most controversial, was the proposed tax incentive for business expansion and modernization. In essence, Kennedy would permit companies to subtract from their tax bills an amount equal to part of their annual investment in new or improved facilities.

Raps Luxury Spending

In urging strict curbs on deductions for business expenses, Kennedy said: "The time has come when our tax laws should cease their encouragement of luxury spending as a charge on the federal treasury. The slogan—it's deductible—should pass from the scene."

More Effective

Anticipating a fight on this, Kennedy said "It is clear that the tax credit would be more effective (than larger allowances) in inducing new investment for the same revenue loss."

$250 Million More

In this fashion, Kennedy said, the treasury would collect at least $250 million more each year and, at the same time, "strengthen our tax structure and give through increased allowances would have cost $3.4 billion annually."

Withholding on Dividends

While this was his main proposal, the item likely to affect the greatest number of Americans was tax-withholding on dividends and interest.

Could Claim Refunds

Under this system the individual taxpayer automatically would assume, when filing his tax return, that the tax on his receipts from dividends and interest had been withheld. He would indicate this on his return.

Taxes would be withheld in this fashion from many who would owe no tax. An example would be the toddler who has a small bank account built up through gifts from parents or grandparents or the tax-exempt college which owns government bonds.

Those owing no tax would have to claim refunds.

country accept Castro's attempts to blame the United States for the hatred his one-time supporters now have for his repression. The President's address amounted to a major foreign policy pronouncement.

His audience, the annual meeting of the newspaper society, was the same forum before which Castro insisted two years ago that: "We are not Communists."

Kennedy's words were directed not only at Cuba and Castro, but over their shoulders at Russia who staged automatic riots in the

and Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev.

The president said that should the time ever come when the United States must protect itself against outside Communist penetration of the western hemisphere, "We do not intend to be lectured on 'intervention' by those whose character was stamped for all time on the bloody streets of Budapest."

He said that Cuba is not an island unto itself and "our concern is not ended by mere expressions of non-intervention and regret."

This, he said, is not the first time that Communist tanks have rolled over gallant men and women fighting to redeem the independence of their homeland.

"Nor," the president said, "is it of refugees who cannot go back to Hungary, North Korea, North Viet Nam, East Germany, against tyranny, anywhere on the face of the globe, including Cuba which a steady stream of refugees testifies 'to the cruel op-Castro immediately or without setbacks," the council said in a communique issued Wednesday night in New York.

The rebel command now appears to be anticipating a mounting guerrilla campaign which they hoped would steadily attract popular support within Cuba, much in the manner of Castro's guerrilla campaign from the mountains of Oriente Province that ultimately brought the downfall of Fulgencio Batista.

Associated Press correspondent Ben Price, in a dispatch from the U.S. Naval Base at Guantanamo Bay, said anti-Castro Cubans in Oriente Province are fearful that the rebels waited too long to strike and thus allowed Castro to arrest or scatter leaders who might have been rallying points for an uprising.

Price quoted an American source familiar with the activities of Cubans in Oriente as saying the population hopes the revolt against Castro will succeed "but they are doing nothing until they have a better idea of what is happening."

The whereabouts of Castro was a mystery. Although a prolific speaker with a penchant for the limelight, he has not been heard over the Cuban radio or seen on television since the insurgents invaded Cuba Monday.

Raul Castro, the prime minister's brother and minister of the armed forces, was reported in Santiago, capital of Oriente Province where he has directed the campaign against rebels in the hills.

President Kennedy called a full cabinet meeting today in Washington and planned to discuss the explosive Cuban situation publicly in a speech to the American Society of Newspaper Editors—the same group Castro told two years ago "we are not Communists."

Raul Castro, the prime minister's brother and minister of the armed forces, was reported in Santiago, capital of Oriente Province where he has directed the campaign against rebels in the hills.

President Kennedy called a full cabinet meeting today in Washington and planned to discuss the explosive Cuban situation publicly in a speech to the American Society of Newspaper Editors—the same group Castro told two years ago "we are not Communists."

Strange Things in Havana Statement

Oddest of All Was Missing Voice Of Fidel Castro, Writer Says

BY WILLIAM L. RYAN
MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—What the Havana radio proclaimed today as a triumph for the Castro regime over its enemies may yet turn out to be the beginning of its downfall.

There were some things wrong with the Havana proclamation. First, the voice of the "maximum leader" still was curiously missing.

Second, it conceded that anti-Castro guerrillas had dispersed into hiding. The anti-Castro revolutionary council claims they have on matters far less critical than joined up with holdout rebels in the Escambray Mountains, and if so, they are beginning a resistance oddly similar to the one which brought the 26th of July movement to power after a long hit-and-run struggle.

Since the victory of Fidel Castro's 26th of July movement on New Year's day, 1959, there has been no pronouncement as important to the regime as the one this morning.

Always Fidel
In the past, Fidel himself never missed an opportunity to make an announcement of major importance. Invariably he has taken to radio and television and spoken for four or five hours at a stretch.

the business before the regime today.

What has happened to him? Is he just playing it safe, eagerly staying in the background until the smoke clears? That would be unlike him. Castro has had a penchant for lumbering loudly into any and all situations and dominating the show.

Has he been shoved aside by the Communists, who may feel he committed blunders which interfered with Soviet bloc efforts to organize the country and its economy in the image of a "people's democracy"? It is possible. There have been signs of Soviet annoyance with him.

Still Alive?
Is Castro still among the living? He was reported to have been fishing in the Bay of Cochinos 1960, County Agent Vernon W. area when the first anti-Castro guerrillas hit the beach over the weekend, and may have been in the area of fragmentation bombing.

Castro's name was signed to the proclamation of victory over the rebels. Yesterday, the supreme command signed the major storage under Commodity Credit communiqué of the day, a departure from a custom which required "Jefe Maximo" to announce everything.

Whatever the answer to these questions, it seems likely that something has happened to change the status of Fidel. And something has happened, too, to the status of the regime because of the strike against it by people on the outside who want passionately to return in peace to their homeland.

No Guarantee
The regime has no guarantee that there will not be new and greater infiltrations, swelling the small guerrilla resistance now in Cuba to a force which really can threaten to topple the Communist-dominated government in Havana.

The revolutionary council which staged the gesture against Castroism made some serious mistakes. One of the biggest was failing to correct the widely held notion that the action they were taking was a large scale invasion.

Not until last night did the council come forward with the announcement that the "invasion" force was not really an invasion prestige of the United States. It force but an infiltration, in hundreds rather than in the thousands, throughout Latin America.

Exaggeration of the stretch of the landings raised hopes of exile Cubans prematurely, and may beginning. And there is a good even have caused the sacrifice of chance that wherever he is or many inside Cuba ready to rally whatever his status, Fidel Castro to the anti-Castro cause. They himself has been a big loser, too.

Farmers Sign Up For Feed Grain Program for 1961

OSHKOSH — Farmer signups are being conducted in each of the halls, starting Tuesday, for the 1961 feed grain program.

Educational meetings were Monday night in four sections with an average attendance of 65 at each meeting.

The program is voluntary, intended to stop building up of feed grain surpluses. Every farm producer in the county soon will receive his base acreage based on his field corn acreage in 1959 and 1960, County Agent Vernon W. Peroutky said today.

Farmers in the program will have a minimum acreage reduction required as well as a maximum acreage. Payment for corn acreages out of production will be in the form of certificates redeemable for feed grain now in storage under Commodity Credit supervision. Farmers not wanting certificates may choose to receive cash from sale of grains sold by the Commodity Credit Corp. on the open market.

African Violets?
WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. A. S. Mike Monroney, D-Okla., related Wednesday that a member of his staff recently called the Government Printing Office asking for material on African violets which had been requested by a constituent.

"You'll have to call the State Department," was the reply. "They would have any material on African violets."

Castro Lost, Too
The whole affair — and this must be faced — up to now has done much harm to the anti-Communist-anti-extremist cause in the Western hemisphere, to say nothing of what it has done to the prestige of the United States. It can cause endless trouble for the United States from here on in, throughout Latin America.

But all this does not mean that the battle is over. It may just be beginning. And there is a good chance that wherever he is or many inside Cuba ready to rally whatever his status, Fidel Castro to the anti-Castro cause. They himself has been a big loser, too.

Subtly Flavored American Blue Cheese Gives Special Touch to Almost Any Dish

BY LILLIAN MACKESY
Post-Crescent Food Editor

One of the most versatile of cheeses available today... made in our own Wisconsin and other cheese producing centers of the United States... is American blue.

And we do mean B-L-U-E in American... not bleu as the French say it with fromage, their word for cheese... nor Roquefort, the famous cheese made from sheep's milk and cave-aged in a specific locality in France and nowhere else. American blue cheese... made from cow's milk... has a 30-year history in this country and most of the blue-veined type of cheese consumed in the United States is produced by American cheesemakers.

As a matter of record and perhaps local pride... about the third largest producer of American blue cheese in the nation is Foremost Dairies, Inc., at its Western Condensing Co. division plant at Thorp, Wis., up in the northern part of Clark County. Other types of cheese are made in the Thorp plant, but American blue is its specialty.

This mottled white cheese has a delicious, sharp, salt and pepper flavor. Crumbly in texture, it's ideal with crackers or fruit. Long known as a dessert or buffet cheese, it's just as useful as a recipe ingredient. It provides a gourmet touch to salads... either in the dressing or sprinkled on top... or may be used to gustatory advantage in crumbled form in cooked foods.

Here are several recipes using this magic ingredient, ranging from delicious Blueburgers (described under the picture) to a fancy coffee ring and Blue Cheese Apple Pie.

Stuffed Pork Chops

- 6 double thick loin chops with pockets cut
- 3 tablespoons butter
- 1 teaspoon minced onion
- 3/4 cup finely sliced mushrooms
- 1/2 cup crumbled American blue cheese
- 3/4 cup fine dry bread crumbs
- dash salt

Melt butter in skillet. Add onions and mushrooms. Cook five minutes. Remove from heat and stir in blue cheese, bread crumbs and dash of salt. Stuff pockets in each chop with this dressing. Secure with picks. Bake at 325 degrees for one hour or until meat is nicely browned and cooked through.

Blue Cheese-Apple Coffee Ring

- 3/4 cup scalded milk
- 1/3 cup soft butter
- 1/4 cup sugar
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 2 eggs, well beaten
- 1/2 teaspoon vanilla
- 1-ounce yeast cake
- 1 tablespoon sugar
- 3 1/2 cups sifted bread flour (about)
- melted butter

1 1/2 cups crumbled American blue cheese
2 apples, pared, finely chopped
2 tablespoons cinnamon
1 cup sugar
2 tablespoons flour
confectioners sugar icing
maraschino cherries
Pour scalded milk over butter, sugar and salt. When butter is melted, add eggs and vanilla. When mixture lukewarm, crumble yeast into one tablespoon sugar and mix with fork until liquefied, then stir dissolved yeast into egg-milk mixture. Mix thoroughly.

Add flour gradually, adding only enough to make a dough soft and easy to handle. Knead dough gently until smooth and elastic, about five to eight minutes. Round dough into ball; place in greased bowl, turning once to bring greased side up. Cover with damp cloth and let rise in warm spot until double in bulk, about one and one-half hours.

Punch dough down with fist, pull edges of dough into center and turn dough. Cover and let rise second time until doubled in size, this time about 30 to 40 minutes.

When ready to shape, gently pat and roll dough into a rectangle about 12 by 20 inches. Brush with melted butter. Spread with blue cheese-apple filling.

The filling is prepared by mixing the blue cheese, chopped apples, cinnamon, flour and sugar together, blending thoroughly. Roll dough like a jelly roll. Place sealed edges down on a lightly greased pan and form a

Tells

The Filling of This Yeast coffee ring is an intriguing combination of spicy chopped apple and American blue cheese. The aromatic cheese blends with both fruit and dough to lend a tantalizing flavor to the coffee cake. This is one of those hot breads that fit into the dessert category more than the usual classification of breakfast cakes. It's delicious served hot from the oven with steaming coffee.

Asparagus Spears, Sliced Tomatoes and greens gain a piquant flavor when topped with American Blue Cheese Dressing. Excellent for all greens, tossed salads and vegetable combinations, this dressing is easy to make. Cheese is blended into oil and vinegar and more is sprinkled on top of the salad.

There's Nothing to Making Blueburgers... and once made they'll become family favorites. Minced onion and a little salt is added to ground beef patties. After they are broiled to a turn, top each burger with a generous spoonful of crumbled blue cheese blended with an equal amount of butter. Continue broiling just until the cheese melts slightly. Serve promptly on toasted, buttered buns.

A Special Stuffing of crumbled American blue cheese, mushrooms and a hint of onion tossed with bread crumbs transforms these pork chops into gourmet food. Although only a relatively small amount of the blue-marbled cheese is required, its delicate pungency lends the final taste elegance to this popular meat.

American Blue Cheese is in complete harmony with sweetened, lightly spiced sour cream. In combination they accentuate the goodness of sliced apples to make a surprisingly fine pie filling. This is a distinctive variation of the always popular apple pie, attractive for company dining when served open-faced and topped with pastry cut-outs.

Plentiful Foods for May Include Poultry, Dairy Products and Cabbage

Homemakers can look forward to an abundance of fine foods in May, including foods popular with the indoor and outdoor cooks.

That's the good news on the U.S. Department of Agriculture's list of plentiful foods.

Featured are broilers and fryers, equally at home in kitchen year ago. New crop potatoes will be coming in from southern and backyard grill. Supplies of these western growing areas.

cheese and other appetizing foods made from milk.

In addition, cabbage is plentiful, providing an answer to many meal problems. Cabbage, either raw or cooked, can enrich in flavor and nutrition such dishes as salads, slaws, entrees, casseroles, soups and vegetables.

Time Depends on Size of City

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — Daylight saving time always brings problems to those who live along the borders of the changing time zones, but the problems of Richmond and Norfolk are a real tale of two cities.

It takes a legislative act for a Virginia area to observe a time other than standard. Such an act is on the books, applying only to cities between 200,000 and 225,000 population.

It applied only to Norfolk at the time it was passed. Now Norfolk has advanced to 305,000 in the 1961 census, and Richmond has dropped from 230,000 to 219,000, making the act apply to only Richmond.

Richmond's city council has voted for daylight time. Norfolk city fathers are scratching their heads.

Your Problems

Best Squelch for Rumor Is Letting Time Prove the Lie

Landers
Dear Mrs. C.: Don't let her change schools or leave the city. A perfect attendance record is the only way to explode the lie.
Your daughter needs your support and guidance. Don't let her down by helping her to run from the situation.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Our 16-year-old daughter is a nervous wreck. About 10 days ago someone started the rumor that she is pregnant. It is the talk of the school. There is no truth whatever in the story, but once a thing gets going how do you stop it? Our daughter has pleaded with us to let her change schools. She just can't bear to have the kids whispering about her behind her back. My husband thinks we should ask the superintendent for permission to have her transferred. She would prefer leaving the city and finishing the school year in the small town where her married sister lives. Please help us. We are too upset to think clearly. — MRS. C.

A way to a man's heart—try stop-overs while they visit around knitting your way — make this When they leave we must return practical, year 'round sweater. Made in a simple ribbing pattern 'knit and purl', it is in sport if they were appreciative, but we have yet to hear one word of sizes 36-38 and 40-42 included; thanks. They just assume we are socks any size.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Every two years my sister-in-law comes home from overseas. She brings four children and a dog. A month before they arrive we get a cable asking us to rent a car, phone the family, stock up on baby food, dog food, and buy steaks (which she misses over there), get a crib, play pen, high chair, etc. and meet the ship. Our home is a free hotel for stop-overs while they visit around knitting your way — make this When they leave we must return practical, year 'round sweater. Made in a simple ribbing pattern 'knit and purl', it is in sport if they were appreciative, but we have yet to hear one word of sizes 36-38 and 40-42 included; thanks. They just assume we are socks any size.

as the tough one just because I want them to grow up with a sense of responsibility and personal integrity? Please reply in print. — Warden
Dear Warden: Don't worry about what your children will think of you. They may gripe about your toughness but so long as you are fair, they will love you and not resent the discipline. In years to come they will think of you as the parent who had the courage and wisdom to make them toe the mark.

To learn the knack of feeling comfortable with the opposite sex, send for Ann Landers' booklet, "How To Be Date Bait," enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.
Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

1/4 teaspoon nutmeg
2 tablespoons flour
1/2 cup dairy sour cream

RE-MARRIAGE

I, a Catholic, was married to a non-Catholic a year ago by a justice of the peace. My husband has since been converted and now we want to have a church wedding. Would it be proper for my parents to give a wedding breakfast and evening reception? Would announcements be proper? Can my father still give me away even if I am not permitted to wear a veil?

Louise Davis Answers:

Under the circumstances, it is advisable that the church wedding be small and simple. Though this marriage will be sanctified by the Catholic Church, you two young people are legally married, so it wouldn't be wise to think in terms of a large wedding and reception. For the same reason, it would be better to think twice about sending out announcements. No doubt the families, relatives and friends on both sides know about the legal marriage even though it may not have been formally announced at the time. Issuing announcements of church marriage after you had been legally married a year ago is very unusual but I wouldn't say that doing it would be completely out of line. Most people just get married in the church with little or no trimmings or fanfare in the way of breakfasts or receptions except for the immediate families. You might discuss your questions with your priest who would also advise you about having your father give you away.

YWCA Members To Attend Parley

NEENAH — Four members of Young Women's Christian Association of Neenah-Menasha will attend the 22nd annual national YWCA convention May 8 through 13 in Denver, Colo.

Attending will be Mrs. Hugo Erdmann, president; Mrs. Helen Braun, assistant director; Mrs. Janet Yakes, nursery teacher and future program director, and Mrs. Arthur Chase, personnel chairman of the board.

Major Focus

Major focus of the triennial parley will be the role and responsibility of YWCA in the 60's.

Heading the list of speakers are Dr. Allan Nevins, professor emeritus of American history at Columbia University, who is currently associated with Henry E. Huntington Library, San Marino, Calif., and Dr. Charles H. Wesley, president of Central State College, Wilberforce, Ohio.

Miss Elizabeth Palmer, general secretary of World YWCA, will attend from Geneva, Switzerland, headquarters of World Association.

Under consideration by the delegates will be the health program, interracial policies and development of new YWCA work as well as the public affairs program.

Programs Topic

Programs for women and girls will be a major subject. The national board of YWCA recently not to call on any policemen while making his door-to-door rounds. Salina has an ordinance which discourages door-to-door selling and provides for the arrest of salesman who cause complaints from residents.

CREOSOTE IN CHIMNEY
Q: We have a problem with creosote forming in the chimney, furnace smoke pipes and in the smoke chamber. What is the cause of this? We have a one and a half story house, located quite near to a hilltop, with wooded areas to the east and south. The house is eight years old. We burn wood for fuel.

The chimney extends from the basement up to two feet above the roof. The creosote eats holes in the smoke pipes, runs through any crack in the chimney and down out the clean-out door at the bottom. There is about six feet of smoke pipe, including a 90-degree elbow, at an angle from the furnace to the chimney.

A: Creosote is caused by condensation of vapors from fuel burned. This is more likely to form when wood is used for fuel than from coal and in cold rather than mild climates. Wood, slowly burned, gives off acids which combine with water or moisture to form the creosote. The chimney walls, being cooler, condense the smoke vapors when they come in contact with the cooler masonry surface.

A clay or stainless steel flue lining should be installed in the chimney.

Baby That Scratches Needs Energy Outlet

By ANGELO PATRI

A mother wants to know what to do with a year-old-baby who scratches? Of course the first answer that comes to one's tongue is "Trim his fingernails." But that does not change the attitude of the child who does this. When he is lifted into his mother's arms, or into any other person's arms, he clutches the cheeks of his friendly helper and digs in hard and pulls with his nails, chuckling all the time.

This child is not being a man. He does not wilfully hurt anyone but the family are well scratched, up and that is not exactly what they would like, given a choice.

Much Energy

Why does he do this? I imagine it is because he has more energy than he uses constructively. His growth must be made by expending the energy supplied him and if he has no wholesome outlet for it he must find another.

After trimming his nails carefully, watching not to make them so short that they allow the finger ends to be hurt, give this sort of child more freedom to move and act with his muscles or something that resists his pressure. He needs to push and pull, kick and hammer and so expend his energy and make his growth without resorting to the use of his family for the purpose.

Pull Toy

A toy this child can pull along the floor by a string as he sits on a blanket spread on the floor is a help. So are blocks that he can grasp and throw. This is the child who loves to beat a tin pan with a metal spoon and if his mother can stand the racket for a brief time it takes to weary him of it, she won't be so likely to be scratched.

Some mothers fasten an inflated football to the foot of the crib so the child can brace his feet against it and push and kick. These little ones need to find some resistance to their efforts to push and pull and kick and this is one good way to provide it.

Tom Owen doubles your fashion pleasure with an exciting two way proposition that offers so many interesting possibilities for combining fabric and color. And it's all done so easily with a wisp of a sheath, buttoned full length on one side then sari-ed over the opposite shoulder. You can stop here, if you choose, with a dress that goes along beautifully on its own. But we're sure you'll want another in contrast. (using the pattern in reverse) to be worn over its twin and left unbuttoned below the waistline for a glimpse at the inside story. For this provocative pair that lets you change the look as easily as you change a subject, you combine plain silk, linen, rayon, cotton, or with prints or solid contrast in the same or a different textured fabric. One suggestion is plain linen with printed silk surah. From these corresponding body measurements select the one size best for you. Our sizing is comparable to ready-to-wear.

Size 12 requires 2 1/2 yards of 36 inch fabric for dress; 2 1/2 yards of 36 inch fabric for contrast dress. To order Pattern No. N-1292, state size, send $1.00. Add 25c for first class postage and special handling. Pattern Books No. 17 and No. 18 available at $1.00 each. SPADEN PATTERNS are the ONLY patterns using ready-to-wear sizes. Play Your Trumps to Limit Loss

You might think that the finalists in a national pair championship would know how to play the trump suit to best advantage, but you'd be wrong. One of the hands stumped some of the experts a few weeks ago in Denver.

The only problem was to limit the trump loss to one trick. There are several ways to do this if you know how the missing cards are located.

A few players led the queen of spades from dummy for a finesse, losing to the king, and later led out the ace of spades in the hands of the queen.

hope of dropping the jack. This was just about the only way to lose two trump tricks, but it wasn't a ridiculous line of play.

Now imagine that the East-West cards are shuffled up and deal a large number of times. How should you play the trump suit to limit the loss to one trick when you don't know how the missing trumps are divided?

Many Ways

There are many ways of playing the trumps. For example, you can plan to lead twice from the dummy, taking two finesses. If you adopt this plan you may lead the queen first; or you may lead a low trump first.

Another way is to lead out the ace of spades and then lead low toward dummy. Or you can start the trumps with a low trump toward dummy, intending to play the queen if West plays low. Perhaps you can think of other ways.

Think it over, and put your expert friends to the test. Which way is best?

Lead Low Trump

The best method in actual play is to lead a low trump from the South hand. If West plays low, you finesse the seven from dummy. This finesse will win if West has all four trumps; and it will force out the king if West has the jack.

If the deep finesse loses to the jack, you plan to continue the trumps by leading the queen from dummy for a finesse. You will lose two tricks if West started with K-5-2 of trumps.

What happens if West started with K-5 or K-2 of trumps? Is West good enough to play up the king? And if West does decide to play low, won't you see his agony?

Remember this for the next time you play in a national championship.

Daily Question

Partner opens with 1 no-trump (16 to 18 points), and the next player passes. You hold: S-Q 8 7 3 H-J 7 5 4 D-A Q J 2 C-4. What do you say?

Answer: Bid two clubs, the Stayman convention. This asks partner to show a major suit if he can.

AVS Asked to Have Liability Insurance

City Gets Claim for Damages For Woman Hurt at Exhibit

The Appleton City Council is asking that the Appleton Adult and Vocational School carry sufficient liability insurance to protect the city against claims for damages. Edward E. Uehlein, 903 E. College Ave., has brought a claim against the city for medical expenses incurred when his wife was injured while working on an art exhibit at the school.

City Atty. Don Jury explained to the council Wednesday that the claim would not be taken care of by workmen's compensation, because Uehlein's wife was a student at the school, not an employee.

Jury said the school has not had liability insurance because the cost would have been prohibitive. But recent word from the insurance company indicates that it can be obtained at a lower rate, he said.

Adjust Classification
In the past the insurance company's rate was high, Jury noted, because it considered every person enrolled as a full-time student. However, the firm has reconsidered its decision, the attorney said, and is willing to adjust its classification of part-time students, which make up most of the enrollment.

"In a school where almost every student is learning some type of trade the danger of accidents is very high," Ald. Roy Pointer commented, "and the school certainly should have sufficient insurance."

"I realize we can't tell the city what to do with its money, once we give it to them, but we should ask them to carry the necessary coverage," Pointer said.

His motion asking that the school take out liability insurance immediately passed unanimously. The Uehlein claim was referred to Jury for investigation to determine the extent of the city's liability.

OSHKOSH — A $3,125,000 bond issue combination was approved awarded to Van Buskirk and Sons, by the City Council Wednesday to Menasha, for $5,491. A dump truck raised funds for a $1-million water utility project, $1-million storm sewer program $500,000 high school equipment project and $610,000 high school auditorium.

The council awarded contracts for water feeder mains to H. F. Radant, Inc., Eau Claire, for $295,740, and to Buissie, Inc., Racine, for $143,197. These bids include use of cast iron pipe.

Bids for the two projects were opened Tuesday. Central Contracting Corp., Oshkosh, was second low bidder in each case.

Mother, Son Die of Fumes In Closed Car

GREEN BAY — Exhaust fumes transmitted into a closed car through a garden hose killed a young mother and her infant son as they sat in the vehicle inside a garage in suburban Allouez late Wednesday.

Dead are Mrs. Barbara Perske, 32, and her seven-month-old son, David Wayne. Mrs. Perske was described as despondent, police said, since the January death in Madison of her husband, William.

The double deaths Wednesday took place in the garage at the home of Mrs. Perske's mother, Mrs. Joseph B. Kozelka, 316 Warren Court. Mrs. Kozelka discovered the bodies.

Mrs. Perske had resided with her mother since her husband took his own life about three months ago. She had another son, Stephen, 7, who was away from the home when the deaths occurred.

$2.5 Million Greenville Port Provokes Bitter Name Calling Dispute

BY JAY REED
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

The Outagamie County Board today reversed itself and voted to "go it alone" in constructing a new, modern airport facility.

By a vote of 32 to 22, the supervisors approved a resolution calling for construction of $2,500,000 airport in the town of Greenville. The same resolution was defeated Wednesday by a 2-vote margin, 28 to 26.

The morning session was interrupted by a bitter, name-calling dispute between Supv. Mark Catlin Jr., of Appleton's Seventh Ward, and Town of Bovina Supv. Ervin Conradt. Entering the debate, at various times, were Supvs. Walter Fredericks, New London; Patrick Heenan, Appleton's Eighth Ward; Frank Appleton, Fifth Ward, and Sylvester Esler, Eighteenth Ward.

Conradt accused Catlin of "pressuring" certain members of the board to change their votes. Catlin challenged Conradt by asking any supervisor "whom I pressured" to stand up. No one did. "You are a liar, Mr. Conradt," was disappointed in Wednesday's vote and urged the county officials to reconsider their stand. The mayor said the city was ready to face its responsibilities atlybly.S cdtshait'jq' haytsaw and pay its share of the airport cost.

Supv. Esler questioned figures the mayor had presented regarding the sale value of lots adjacent to the present airport. Mitchell said lots 65- by 120-feet sell for between $2,500 and $3,500. Esler disputed the figures saying a closer value was $900.

Five supervisors who voted "nay" Wednesday switched positions overnight. A sixth who voted "aye" today substituted for and represented a supervisor who had voted against the resolution the day before.

Who Changed Sides

Changing their votes were Supvs. Kloes, John Heidemann, Buchanan; Ivan Dunbar, Seymour First Ward; Armin Schuurle, Appleton's Sixteenth Ward, and Joseph Weyers, Freeborn. Norman Haefis, Seymour Second Ward, was sitting for est tax - paying, units in the county. "Many the airport debate fostered a series of parliamentary maneuvers the like of which are rarely seen in the county board room."

Supv. Paul Kostka, Little Chute, moved to delay a final vote until the May session, but was defeated on roll call, 32 to 22. A motion by Irvin Conradt, Bovina, to return to Page 19 Col. 1 and several others which produce for local markets. Appleton Wire Works, largest in the country, was founded in 1896.

The firm opened a plant in Montgomery, Ala., in 1952 when technological developments made use of southern pine suitable for papermaking, he said. The plant now is responsible for 40 per cent of Appleton Wire Works production. Employment in Appleton is higher than before, he added.

As more control was required to produce quality wires, automatic machines were developed to provide the type of quality wire cloth required for the high speed paper machines.

Buchanan said two developments in the future could change the wire weaving business. One is the possibility of other ways of making paper so that paper machines of today — and the Four-drummer wires — will not be needed. Another would be development of a long-life wire which now can be used for periods ranging from a week to a couple of months.

In addition to the problem of obsolescence because of technological developments, Buchanan said there was a "threat" to the American industry because of much lower labor costs in foreign lands. American-made wires are not competitive in world markets, he said.

James Newsome, production manager of Johnson and Johnson, Chicago, and National SAM president, will speak at the next meeting May 11 at Green Bay Elks Club. The chapter will observe Ladies Night and members of the student chapter at St. Norbert College also will attend.

Retarded Child Theories Same

Central Colony
PTA Program

MENASHA — Speaking at the 10th anniversary program of the special education Parent-Teacher Association at Menasha High School, Harvey A. Stevens said theories for the retarded child in the past have been the same theories as applied to the normal child. The retarded child does not necessarily learn in the same way.

Stevens is superintendent of the new Central Wisconsin Colony for the mentally retarded. Until recently, he said, the theory was that a retarded child could go only so far, but this is not necessarily true. Teaching machines have been very effective in showing how much can be accomplished.

Not Completed

Central Colony, which has not yet been completed, will eventually have a full time research staff in the institution.

Objectives of the new institution will be to work closely with the University of Wisconsin in research, the development of an evaluation service as well as an day at the National Manufacturing center with out-patient service.

Water Patrolman Hired For Wolf River, Lakes

Additional Man Approved By Waupaca County Board

WAUPACA — The Waupaca County Board Wednesday authorized the hiring of another water patrolman to prevent water accidents on the Wolf River and lakes in the county, excluding the Chain O'Lakes.

Rex Oatman, county conservation warden, said the additional man, to serve from April 1 to Oct. 1 in future years but starting May 1 this year, would have to set up a schedule to visit the most boat congested areas.

In a relative action, the board heard a law enforcement committee report denying a petition to extend the hours for water skiing on Columbia, Long, Rainbow and Round Lakes of the Chain O'Lakes.

Skiing Hours
Carl Dretzke, Manawa, law enforcement committee chairman, said that the present regulations limiting water skiing on those lakes would remain effective. Water skiing, water skiing is allowed from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. during week days and from 10 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. on weekends and holidays.

Discussions on the additional water patrolman indicated that

Deed Rules Might Affect Rezoning

The City of Appleton may have improperly rezoned some lots in the 700 block of E. Greenfield Street, it was learned at the council meeting Wednesday.

The legal point arose while the council was considering a request to rezone a lot in that block from single family to two family residential.

An attorney representing objectors to the rezoning informed councilmen that there is a deed restriction for all property in that area, part of North Park Estates Subdivision, which says the property must be used only for single family dwellings for 25 years.

Two other lots in the block already have been rezoned two family, and the city changed the zoning on the northwest corner of Greenfield and Meade Streets to permit construction of the new northeast side fire station.

Willard Calmes, route 3, Appleton, who asked the latest change, said he thought his request should be granted because others have been approved.

But the council decided to investigate the legality of rezoning in that area, and denied Calmes' request, 15 to 3.

Ald. Donald Mueller, in whose ward the lots are, said he understood the reason for rezoning the other two lots was to create a buffer between the single family homes and the new fire station. He said he thought that the buffer had been created now, and he would not favor anymore rezoning in that area.

OSC Site of Conference On 'Inservice Education'

OSHKOSH — A conference on "Inservice Education," sponsored by the State Department of Public Instruction, will bring educators from 13 counties to Oshkosh State College Saturday.

"Inservice education," explain the planners, "is the program of continued professional preparation and improvement engaged in by teachers and administrative personnel during the course of their service in the profession."

The State Curriculum Guiding Committee, which called the pilot conference, said it hopes the meeting will become a model for others in the state and will lead to closer coordination of school and college resources.

Discussion Topic

Discussion topics included:

"1. The need for a dynamic relationship between preservice and inservice teacher education."

"2. The growing demands upon administrators and instructional leaders caused by growing importance of inservice education as a fundamental part of the preparation of every teacher."

"3. The need for a research approach to curriculum change in light of rapid social and technological change."

"4. The study of various organizational structures to see if they are adequate to meet the objectives of inservice education and instructional improvement."

On the conference committee were Eugene Baltz and David Bowman, Oshkosh; Robert Fowler, Neenah; M. J. Gegan, Menasha; Miss Edna Palecek, Winneconne; Walter Schmidt, Kaukauna; Clarence Wesslen, Athens,

Madison (AP)—The 25 cent fee paid to those who report marriages, births, deaths and burials would be revoked under terms of a bill recommended for passage by the Senate Public Welfare Committee Wednesday.

Assemblyman Vincent Mathews, D-Waukesha, introduced the proposal contending it would save the state "a lot of money" annually.

George Rice, a representative of the Milwaukee County Board, agreed with Mathews. Rice said, "Milwaukee now incurs costs of up to $50 in the processing of the 25 cent checks, and said Mathews' bill would "solve one of the most vexatious problems of local government."

Asks That Children Attend Church Worship

Westberg Urges Use of Knowledge About Personality

To move Sunday schools away from Sunday or move the youngsters out of Sunday school and into a regular worship service with their parents, Dr. Granger Westberg of the University of Chicago suggested. He spoke to officers, teachers, committee and cabinet members of First Congregational church after dinner Tuesday night.

Dr. Westberg concluded a seven-lecture series with a second address, "The Church's Reaction to Psychiatry," later in the evening.

At the dinner meeting he compared a child's development to construction of a skyscraper. The first, or foundation stage, runs from birth to six years; the second, or superstructure stage, from six to 14 years; and the third, or finishing, to 18 or 21 years. Most psychologists feel that personality development is fairly complete by 14 years, and that to bring about personality changes after that time is costly and painful and can be done only with the person's active desire to change.

Youngsters in Basement

"What has the church done with this knowledge of personality?" he asked. "The traditional Sunday school pattern is to put the youngsters in the church basement for Sunday school — I had classes in kitchens, boiler rooms and even a coal bin — and leave our beautiful sanctuaries to the grown-ups." He suggested that Protestant churches are losing great opportunities in not bringing youngsters into a close family-church relationship weekly.

He said that since Protestant denominations are losing four out of five of their youngsters after age 14, perhaps the time has come to take a new look at the traditional Sunday school procedure. "Actually, we have a Sunday school versus church situation," he said.

Some Over Heads

"Even if the children only catch on to five minutes of a 20 minute sermon, that's good," he said. "I'm not at all sure that the discipline of sitting still even though some of the service is going over their heads isn't good."

Dr. Westberg said it's good for children to know and feel familiar with their ministers. "Sometimes the pastors never see the hundreds of children in their Sunday schools," he said.

In his final address Dr. Westberg traced the relationship of the church and psychiatry since the 1930's, when "The church was both intrigued and irritated. Many followers of Freud were agnostic or atheistic, and their attitudes were reflected in their patients, who often felt, after treatment, that they'd outgrown religion."

Cooperation Emerges

Bus Route Map Lost

Fox Point Service Proposal Hits Snag

NEENAH—A proposal for bus service for the new Fox Point Shopping Center apparently has run into snags.

Olof Lundquist, operator of Fox River Bus Lines says he has asked Fox Point officials to lay out a proposed route, including what city streets buses would operate on, and what he could expect in the way of passenger volume. He has not heard from anyone at the center in six weeks, he added.

Vince Lampe, president of the Fox Point Merchants Association, said a map of a proposed route had been drawn up and given to Lundquist the first week the center was in operation.

Lampe added that he felt any bus service for the shopping center should include the downtown business districts of Neenah and Menasha. The question had been turned over to the Chamber of Commerce problems committee.

John Konrad, executive secretary of the chamber, said his group had been waiting for word from Lundquist on whether the route prepared by the Chamber was acceptable to the bus company.

He said that until the bus line had accepted the proposed route, the chamber could not go to the Neenah and Menasha councils for approval.

The chairman of the problems committee, Art Kessler, said no recommendation will be made until a business survey is finished. He said his committee is trying to determine what the summer store hours will be and what would be the best routes.

A new route map apparently will have to be drawn up. Only one copy of the original map was made and no one has been able to locate that copy.

The state Public Service Commission and the Common Councils of Neenah and Menasha must approve additional bus routes or changes in existing bus routes.

Lawrence Actors Stage Pistachio Confection

Student-Directed Productions Present
Gem of Opera, Historic Roman Romp

BY JAY JOSLYN
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

The confection being served by the Lawrence College drama department in the experimental theater in the music-drama center on the campus is flavored with pistachio and delightful to those who may have schooled themselves in liking things a little out of the ordinary.

The student-directed one-act productions this time around are a Roman comedy and an Italian comic opera—in fact the first comic opera ever written.

Patrick Sheehy, a junior, directed the farcical Roman romp while Lawrence LeFevre, a senior, handled the more complicated task of putting together the opera.

Gem of Opera

The latter is the major work of the evening. First produced by Giovanni Battista Pergolesi in 1733, the gem proved to be a turning point in lyric theater and opened the lyric theater to the middle classes, excluded before by the aristocracy.

The plot is basic. A maid servant sets her cap for her master and persuades him to marry her. Enlisted in her plans is a dumb handyman.

Thomas McGuire extends his considerable theatrical experience in singing the master's role. The assignment's range tasks McGuire's voice and the concentration on the singing job hampers his full acting prowess.

Bright New Talent

On the other hand, Jilda Napoli, a freshman, gives the sourette a wonderful portrayal, displaying a good voice and a fine flair for operatic acting. She indicated she enjoys singing and carried her audience along with her in her pleasure. Miss Napoli is a bright new talent on the campus.

pus who gives promise of providing many pleasurable performances.

Her ally in the intrigue is William Bachman, whose grotesque pantomime made him a favorite of the audience.

The opera was sung in Italian, accounting, perhaps, for Irishman McGuire's discomfort and Miss Napoli's facility, but Pergolesi's music proves a good interpreter, allowing the singers to be as understood as the pantomime.

Basic Plot

The Roman romp's plot concerns a man and a maid also. But the structure is more basic—or base. A wealthy young man, played by Dave McIntyre, attempts to purchase a girl, played by Sheila Meier, from a bilious procurer, played painfully by Dan Brink. The transaction is conducted by a freedman, played jauntily by Bob Suszycki, who beats out a Roman soldier, played by Dudley Owens, by fooling a banker, played by Ken White. However, the soldier proves to be the girl's long lost brother and everything ends happily.

Howie Hutchinson takes some falls and beatings as the young man's slave and Carol Reed presents an outlandish, wine-sotted slave set to guard the girl.

The college is doing its service to the community in staging these milestones while providing a showcase for new players and a workshop for embryonic directors.

Whitford, welfare department director, and Mrs. Fred Kepfield, caseworker, to attend the National Conference of Social Workers at Minneapolis May 14 to 17 and of Robert Berry, welfare department staff, to attend the American Public Welfare Association at Grand Rapids, Mich.

The Board rejected sending at county expense Dr. George Arndt, guidance clinic psychologist, to the American Psychiatric Association conference at Chicago May 7 to 13 and Kepfield, clinic psychiatric social worker, to the same convention his wife is attending.

Meet With ASC

Supv. Gordon Hanson, Town of Winchester, asked the agriculture and education committee meet with ASC officials in charge of the soil bank to see if a swath around the fields in the soil bank could be plowed. Many of these fields have had fires in recent weeks.

1st Serious Race For GOP Governor Nomination Seen

Dozen Years Since Last, but Knowles, Kuehn, Olson in Ring

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

Post-Crescent Staff Writer

MADISON — The promise of the first serious contest for a Republican nomination for governor in a dozen years is contained in current developments in the political party which is quietly planning ahead for the 1962 elections.

As matters stand now, there will be three widely known men gunning for the nomination for top place on the ticket of the party which has high hopes of returning to control of the executive department which it ruled without interruption from 1939 to 1959.

A boom is visibly developing for Lt. Gov. Warren P. Knowles, a seasoned veteran of the political wars, who is evidently doing nothing to discourage it. Philip Kuehn, the 1960 party nominee who lost to Gov. Gaylord Nelson, and Jack Olson of Wisconsin Dells have virtually acknowledged their intentions in their own current campaign speaking schedules.

Narrow Loss Normally Kuehn would have a strong claim upon another nomination, having volunteered his services in 1960 when many of the better known men of the party were not disposed to challenge the incumbent Democratic governor, and having made a hard and aggressive campaign and having lost by a respectably narrow margin.

But some of the leaders of local and district party organizations reportedly are inclined to believe that Knowles would be a stronger candidate, in view of his proved vote-getting abilities in past elections and his statewide acquaintance drawn from more than two decades of prominent and successful service in legislative affairs.

If Knowles during the next six months shows a willingness to stand for the 1962 convention endorsement, he is likely to recruit many of the key backers Kuehn has been depending upon to give him a second convention blessing.

At Crossroads Whether Knowles will be willing he isn't saying — now. But he is traveling and speaking widely, and his associates report that he is aware that he is at the crossroads of his career. He has held subordinate state office since 1939, and the lieutenant governorship for three terms. The logic of his situation demands, it is said, that he strike out for higher place soon.

The contest between Kuehn and Knowles for convention delegate endorsement, if it develops, would be a friendly one. Knowles had considered a permanent retirement from politics when he was defeated in the 1958 elections for lieutenant governor, and returned arrested him Feb. 26 at U. S. 10 and 41 in the Town of Grand Chute. Police found him sleeping in the car with the motor running. He did not take the drunkometer test. Lathrop denied the charge on Feb. 28.

feat Kuehn for it, has virtually announced that he intends to run as an independent — in the sense that he will enter the primary with or without the endorsement of the party organization convention.

He has been working busily around the state for the last several months, and has apparently improved upon the campaign machine he put together hastily in the early part of 1960.

Similarly Kuehn has developed a fast-paced speaking schedule lately, and has discussed state legislative issues and the record of the Democratic state administration in terms that leave no doubt whatever that he is a candidate in all respects except a formal announcement.

Traditionally the official announcement of a candidate is deferred by convention endorsement in 1960 but nouncements are deferred by convention withdrawal from the contest when it dedates until the early part of the year was evident that he couldn't de-

Executives Attend Mental Health Talks

Menninger Clinic Doctors Speak to Valley Industrials

NEENAH — One of the most important psychological strengthening devices the modern executive has is the investment of himself in someone else, a nationally known mental health authority, told Fox Valley industrialists Wednesday.

"For each of us there must be some opportunity to reach out his hand to another person and offer something of himself. It is something like an electric current, going both ways. Each of us needs this opportunity to recharge his personal batteries," the executive group was told by Dr. Harry Levinson, director of the division of industrial mental health of the Menninger Foundation, Topeka, Kans.

His comments came during a one day seminar sponsored jointly by the Winnebago County Association for Mental Health and Kimberly-Clark Corporation. Dr. John A. Turner, Menninger Foundation psychiatrist, was present also.

In today's industrialized society there is an increasing demand on the executive to understand human feelings and to exercise this understanding if his leadership is to be productive, said Dr. Levinson.

Feelings Part of Health
"We have to learn that feelings are a part of our health, and we must be aware of them—our own feelings as well as those of others," he said.

"As our organizations grow, as people remain in them longer periods of time, they are making a greater investment in their com-

Dr. Harry Levinson, second from right, director of the division of industrial mental health, Menninger Foundation, Topeka, Kan., conducted a seminar at Kimberly-Clark Corp. Wednesday, sponsored by the paper company and the Winnebago County Association for Mental Health. Pictured with Dr. Levinson are, from left, Dr. John A. Turner, an associate at the foundation; Mowry Smith Jr., vice-president of the Menasha Wooden Ware Corp. and a member of the Winnebago association; John C. Bletzinger, president of the Winnebago group; and W. R. Kellett, president of Kimberly-Clark.

We have to be increasingly concerned about how they feel about their jobs, about what they want in life.

"Feelings are here to stay, and we are living in an era when their importance is increasing each day," the speaker noted.

The executive as a human being has the same problems as everyone else, Dr. Levinson pointed out. At the same time, probably the dominant feature of modern U. S. culture is industry, and the executive's role is a critical one. He is a key person in an industrial society. His thoughts and action have an impact not only on his own business but on other enterprises and on the community.

"The executive," he said, "must recognize the leadership responsibility of his particular role, and he must accept it."

New Wisconsin Ave. Lights Get Final Okay

Objectors to Ornamental Installation Fail to Appear at Public Hearing

Ornamental street lights on Wisconsin Avenue from Richmond to Badger Avenue to Ballard Road, Drew Streets will become a reality. Strong objection from property owners west of Richmond Street

The Appleton City Council passed the final resolution for the lights Wednesday, and authorized the board of public works to advertise for bids.

The board already has set the special assessment rate for the lights at $5 a front foot.

A public hearing on the assessments was held at the council meeting. Eighteen private property owners and two commercial firms sent written objections to the council, but none of them appeared at the public hearing to support their objections.

Growing Business
A delegation of those in favor of the lights was at the hearing. None of them spoke, probably because none of the objectors were present.

The new lights were requested by the Northside Advancement Association, because of the growing business district along the street.

The association's first request

$72,000 OK'd To Fix Roof On Hospital

$12,000 Added by Winnebago Board For Replacement

OSHKOSH — Spending up to $12,000 more on replacement of the county hospital roof to make a total of $72,000 authorized for that project passed the Winnebago County Board Wednesday afternoon without a dissenting vote.

There were many dissenting voices about the roof on the hospital built less than 10 years ago and already repaired once.

The district attorney was directed to contact the general contractor, the Charles A. Fuller Construction Co., Chicago, to see if the county can recover the repair cost.

Legally, the supervisors were advised by the district attorney's office, there is not much possibility of recovery.

Supv. Gordon Hanson's motion to have the institutions committee, county hospital trustees, district attorney and architect continue the investigation to try to determine blame passed by a 26 to 20 vote.

Supv. Oliver Thomsen, Neenah, an institutions committee member, said the matter has been investigated and "we have come up against a blank wall."

Bond Ran Out
Dist. Atty. Jack Steinhaber told the board Wednesday afternoon that the contractor's bond covered only repair work done within one year after completion.

The district attorney added the bond covers the roof and flashing but not the drain areas where some water leakage developed.

Richard Thern, of the architectural firm directing the roof replacement, told the board Wednesday that some of the roofing materials layers had no asphalt mopping between them and the layers were not staggered as is customary. The initial cause of the problem was the roof drain locations which, he said, did not allow for a normal four-foot square flashing around the drains.

In some cases, the drains were against the ventilators, he declared. Where test holes were drilled in several areas not planned for re-roofing, the roof was found to be wet.

Insulation in the original roof was an organic material which decomposes when exposed to water. The new insulation is a glass foam which will not allow water to pass through, Thern told the supervisors.

The use of short lengths of lumber for nailing strips for the gravel stop and "inadequate" fastening of the nailing strips to the cement was questioned by Thomsen.

The County Board last fall provided $30,000 in this year's budget for the roof repair. Another $30,000 was added later from the general fund when it was discovered the damage was more extensive.

The $12,000 approved Wednesday will finish the project. The money will come from an earmarked $20,000 the hospital trustees have for boiler replacement. The board will repay the $12,000 from the 1961 tax levy.

Manawa to be Site of Summer Stock Theater

MANAWA — "The Holiday Players," a summer stock theater produced by Richard Goldsmith of Milwaukee, will come to Manawa June 16, the Manawa Business and Professional Men's Association decided Wednesday night.

The association made arrangements to become one of the backers of the professional summer stock company.

Goldsmith and his actress wife, Judy Becker, told the association the Manawa central location promises the theater a successful season.

Goldsmith explained that the Manawa Theater, a vacant cinema theater, will be an ideal site for the summer productions. It is air conditioned, he said, and has the best seating arrangements in the area.

Comedy Season
Scheduled for production are a series of musical comedies, musical reviews and dramatic comedies. Performances will be scheduled six nights a week, matinees on weekends. The season will run until the end of August.

A resident company will be hired to stage the shows.

"We are attracting some of the best talent from Milwaukee and Chicago," Goldsmith said. "We also plan to bring in some seasoned people from New York."

Fire Destroys Auto, Contents Driver Escapes Blaze on State 151 Near Chilton

CHILTON — A late model station wagon and its cargo were destroyed by flames about 4:30 p.m. Wednesday on State 151 five miles west of here after an overheated flat tire set the vehicle aflame.

The driver, Carl Bergman, Hazelhurst, Wis., told Fire Chief Norbert Sturm the vehicle handled as though it had a flat tire.

When he stopped and stepped out to investigate, the rear portion of the car near the wheel burst into flame.

A cargo of marine equipment and Bergman's overcoat were destroyed in addition to the car. The vehicle was owned by Mrs. Gertrude Trapp, also of Hazelhurst.

Oshkosh College Announces Art Workshop Idea

OSHKOSH — "Fun in Art" will be the theme of an art workshop Saturday on the Oshkosh State College campus.

Sponsored by the college art department, the workshop will run from 8:15 to 11:30 a.m. with trips in the early afternoon.

Mrs. Nile Behncke, department chairman, said the program will include work and discussion by the six members of the art staff in the areas of art appreciation, art education, printmaking and figure drawing.

Invitations to the workshop have been sent to art teachers in an eight-county area, including Brown, Calumet, Door, Fond du Lac, Kewaunee, Outagamie, Waushara and Winnebago counties.

The program will include a noon luncheon at the college student union center and tours of the Oshkosh Public Museum and Paine Art Center.

State Doctor To Talk on Mental Health

NEENAH — Dr. Edward J. Pfeifer, senior supervisor with the State Board of Vocational and Adult Education, rehabilitation division, will be the featured speaker for the next in a series of meetings sponsored by the Winnebago County Association for Mental Health at 7:30 p.m. Monday at the Presbyterian Church fellowship hall.

Dr. Pfeifer has responsibility for developing rehabilitation programs and services for the mentally retarded and the mentally ill. He also supervises case work at the state level.

The speaker graduated from Marquette University and the University of Wisconsin. He received his Doctor of Philosophy degree from the state university in 1953 in guidance, personnel services and psychology, and has done research on psychological problems.

Put on Probation On Conduct Charge

Wayne W. Southard, 28, 521 E. Pacific St., was placed on probation for a year Tuesday to the State Department of Public Welfare after he admitted a charge of disorderly conduct. Sentence was withheld.

Appleton police arrested Southard April 1 at his home after his wife told police he choked her until she fainted.

County Board Picks New Committees

No Major Changes in Lineup; Five New Supervisors Receive Seats

The Outagamie County Board Wednesday completed working committee assignments for the year and scheduled individual committee caucuses for selection of officers.

There were no major changes in committee lineups. For the most part, supervisors retained the seats they held for the past year.

Five new supervisors were integrated into the working arrangement. They received seats on Courts and Administration of Justice; Traffic Police and Radio; Agriculture and Conservation and Health and Education.

Speaker Sees Highway Crisis

Rotary Club Hears Call for Support Of Freeway Bill

The finance crisis in Wisconsin's highways must be met head-on within two years or we will find our 1965-1970 state roads in "pitiful condition," Jack Olson told the Appleton Rotary Club Tuesday.

Olson, businessman and president of the Wisconsin Dells Rotary Club, is secretary-treasurer of Wisconsin Good Roads Association.

He called for support of bills to create freeway and advance purchase of right-of-ways.

U. S. 41 is Example

Olson said four-lane highways such as U. S. 41 cannot become limited access freeways until the current legislation is passed.

Today only the Interstate highways 94 and 90, and the Milwaukee expressway can be constructed to limited access standards.

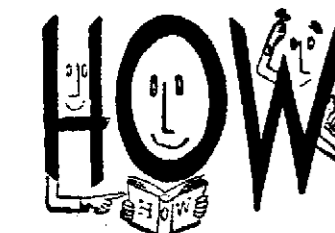

"Unfortunately beltlines like 41 around Appleton are fast becoming hazardous business streets instead of bypasses," he added.

Cites State Survey

He cited instances where the commission should have purchased land corridors in metropolitan areas for future highway needs, but had no legal right to do so. By the time purchases were made homes had mushroomed and land cost 10 to 20 times what it did earlier.

Olson said a recent five-year study of Wisconsin's highway needs showed "half the roads deficient and the state short $44 million a year for the next 10 years in meeting road building needs."

The highway advisory committee of the Wisconsin Legislative Council made the study.

Northeast Wisconsin Teacher's Pay Rises

$3,000 to $8,050 Range for Next Year, Report Says

Teachers of northeastern Wisconsin will be getting salaries of $3,000 to $8,050 or more next school year, according to a survey by Northeastern Wisconsin Education Association.

The report includes 1961-62 salary schedules of 28 school systems in information from 88 school districts and 12 counties which replied to questionnaires mailed in January.

Next year's salaries are all equal to or higher than those of this year.

Degrees Pay

Assembly Okays Longer Units for Automobile Carriers

Degrees Pay Beginning teachers without bachelors degrees will get between $3,000 (Wauchesa) and $4,300 (Appleton) next year, with most of them in the $3,500 to $4,000 range. Appleton and other large cities of the area ordinarily do not hire new teachers without degrees. Green Bay, Manitowish and some other districts gave no schedules for non-degree teachers.

Family Head Bonus The report lists starting salaries for teachers with masters degrees as $4,300 (Sevastopol) to $5,020 (Sheboygan) and top salaries as $5,600 (Wittenberg) to $7,670 (Sheboygan).

Work 36 to 38 Weeks Teachers are paid for school years of 36 to 38 weeks, the survey showed. Most large districts allow up to one week sick leave a year, accumulating to about 60 days total. Most small districts allow half as much.

Hurt in Fall The survey does not include extra pay for extra work, such as coaching, teaching summer school or other extra-curricular activities.

Those chosen from Neenah are Donald L. Holverson, 115 E. Forest Ave.; Mrs. Jack Casper, 719 Congress St.; Jim Powers, 620 Chestnut St.; and Mrs. Edwin West, 112 Pine St.

Also selected was George Spiegelberg, route 1, Larsen.

Unemployment Claims Drop to 4-Month Low

MADISON (AP) — Claims for unemployment compensation in Wisconsin dropped to 57,948 in the week ending April 15, the lowest since Dec. 24, 1960 when the count was 51,857.

The State Industrial Commission's Unemployment Compensation Department reported the drop today and attributed it mainly to a seasonal increase in construction jobs and recalls to work in the automotive industry.

The department said the decrease in claims was statewide with virtually every district noting fewer applications.

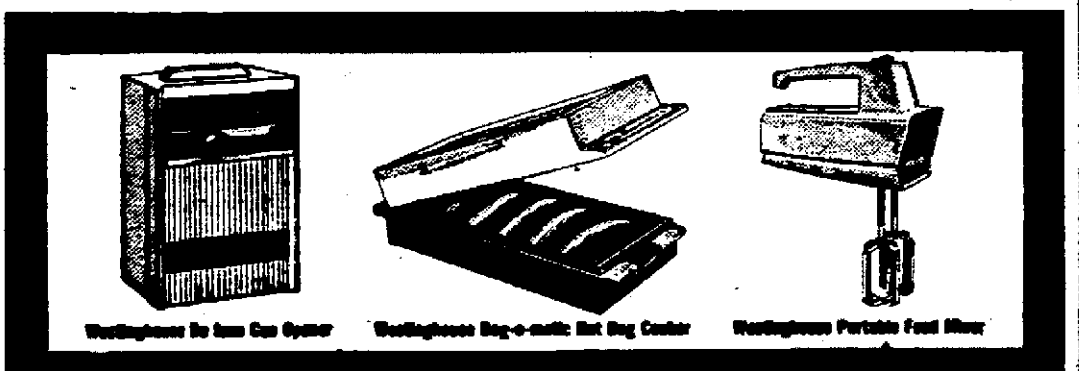

In the week ending April 8 the claims total was 63,497 and for April the figure was 63,935.

The number entering new claims in the last reportable period was 3,834 compared to 4,612 and 5,421 in the earlier weeks of April.

NEENAH — Mrs. Harry Pagel, 65, 207 Hewitt St., Neenah, suffered back and side injuries Tuesday when she fell at Sunset Point near Winchester. She was reported in good condition at The Clark Memorial Hospital today.

Lawrence Says

J. S. May Have to Use Cuban Blockade

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — An air and sea blockade of Cuba may have been imposed by the United States to prevent the landing of munitions and weapons of war by the Soviet government.

Not only is there evidence now that the Russian government has violated the Monroe Doctrine, but that also has ignored the declaration of the Organization of American States which by resolution affirmed that same doctrine.

The resolution which was adopted at Caracas, Venezuela, in 1954 declares "that the domination or control of the political institutions of any American state by the international Communist movement, extending to this hemisphere the political system of an intra-continental power, would constitute a threat to the sovereignty and political independence of the American states, endangering the peace of America, and would call for a meeting of consultation to consider the adoption of appropriate action in accordance with existing treaties."

No Time Now
Unfortunately, there isn't time to wait for a meeting of the Organization of American States, and it so happens that the United States has the sea and air power to thwart the Russian invasion of Cuban territory. Dispatches in the last 24 hours have revealed that Communist-made MIG jet aircraft as well as Soviet tanks and cannons are actually being used by Castro's army. There is evidence also that Castro's government has been infiltrated by the Communists. Thus the world is witnessing a brazen attempt by the Soviet government to establish a foothold in Cuba and to extend its military held and a dictatorship has assumed power, there can be no indifference to the acts of a European government which connives with and in effect controls the local dictatorship.

It is also to be noted that the United States has formally severed diplomatic relations with the Castro government. This means that the Castro regime no longer is recognized as the constituted government of Cuba. It means also that the United States regards what is happening in Cuba as a struggle between two factions, one of which has been guilty of high crimes and misdemeanors, not only against the people of Cuba but against the citizens of foreign countries.

Deep Concern

For any European government to take sides and send military equipment and officers and pilots from its own or satellite governments to carry on a war against the Cuban people is a cause for deep concern by the American government.

Unless Soviet Premier Khrushchev heeds the warning in the message sent by President Kennedy on Tuesday night of this week, the Kremlin can expect a blockade to be imposed against the ships of all nations which may be suspected of carrying munitions of war or military men to assist in the waging of war against the democratic aspirations of the Cuban people.

(Copyright, 1961)

Latest JFK Message

"But we would consider it intervention in the internal affairs of an American state if any power, whether by invasion, coercion or subversion, succeeded in denying freedom of choice to the people of any of our sister republics."

President Kennedy, in his latest message to Nikita Khrushchev, says:

"I have previously stated and I repeat now that the United States intends no military intervention in Cuba. In the event of any military intervention by outside force, we will immediately honor our obligations under the inter-American system to protect this hemisphere against external aggression."

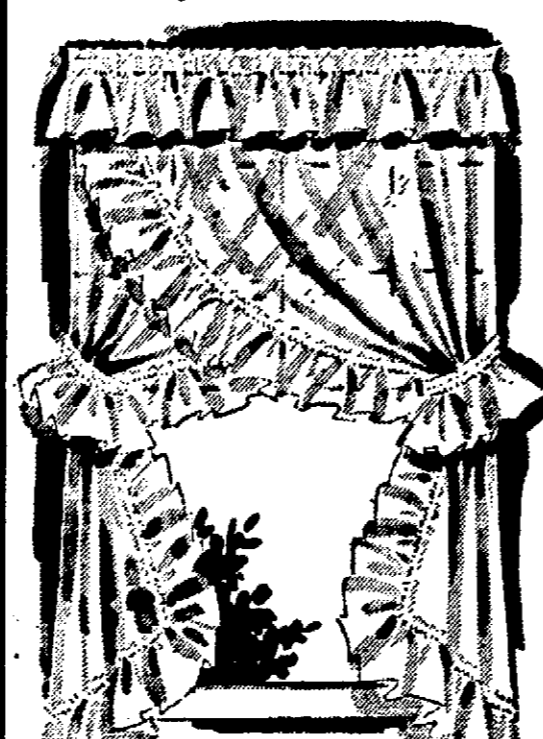

This is a warning that unmistakably outlines America's determination to use military power to prevent any further encroachment on Cuban territory. To effectuate such a decision, it is necessary to cut off the landing of any more military weapons or equipment by the Russians. The most practical way to do this is to intercept any planes that may be headed for Cuba and to require any ships that may be destined for Cuban ports to be searched. If they contain munitions, they would be asked to return to their port of origin. There is evidence also that

Burdette Remains Pitching Choice as Braves Try Again

Club Idle for Fourth Day In a Row

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Milwaukee Braves and the Philadelphia Phillies, rained out for two straight days, try again tonight to kick off the National League season at Connie Mack Stadium.

"Four days of idleness is not helping us at all," said Milwaukee manager Charlie Dressen after Wednesday's scheduled game was postponed because of rain and cold.

"We came out of Bradenton (Fla.) with as well conditioned a club as I have seen, but for a week now we've had nothing but brutal baseball weather," Dressen moaned. "You can't grip a ball or a bat."

Fewest in League

The Braves, who have played fewer games than any other National League team, have a string of three straight postponements as their meeting with the Cubs in Chicago last Sunday was snowed out. Milwaukee, with a 1-3 record, is in last place, a half game behind the Phillies, who have a 2-4 mark.

Dressen decided to stick with right-hander Lew Burdette as his mound choice for tonight's game. Burdette, who was not involved in the decision in his only previous start, had a 5-1 record against Philadelphia last year.

Manager Gene Mauch delayed a definite selection of a starter if Art Mahaffey still is sidelined with a back injury, either right-hander John Buzhardt or southpaw Chris Short is expected to draw the Philadelphia pitching assignment.

If Burdette goes against the Phillies, the Braves will be well set for pitchers for the invasion of Pittsburgh Friday for a three-game series with the World Champion Pirates. Both Warren Spahn and Bob Buhl are well rested.

Marinette Pitcher to Hurl for Braves' Farm

PALATKA, Fla. (AP) — Right-hander Chuck Heath of Marinette, Wis., checked into the Milwaukee Braves' Palatka farm camp Wednesday for the start of the Florida State League season.

Heath was signed by the Braves Monday after a month at Milwaukee's minor league training base at Waycross, Ga.

Kimberly Trackmen Top Freedom High

KIMBERLY — The Kimberly Manley of Kimberly to take first. High School track team opened Bill Timmers placed second and its regular season with a 66½ to Ron Vandenberg of Freedom moved 36½ victory over Freedom here ed into third.

Wednesday.

The Papermakers slammed two events — the high hurdles and the broad jump — and capped eight firsts.

Freedom took four firsts and a live number of seconds.

Kimberly won the only relay event of the day, the 880-yard run. The sprint medley relay was not run since the Irish did not have an entry.

Three Firsts

Tom Rooyackers of Kimberly scored three firsts. The lanky Papermaker won the 220-yard dash, the high hurdles and the broad jump.

The Papermakers might well have slammed the low hurdles, too, but Tom Roovers, leading by a good margin, hit the final barrier and fell. This allowed Dave MENASHA — Bill Becker's 2-hit pitching enabled the St. Mary Zephyrs to grab their first Fox Valley Conference victory, 1-0, of the season Wednesday afternoon at the Sixth Street park.

The Zephyrs and Oshkosh struggled through seven scoreless innings before an error on a ground ball let in the only marker of the game.

Paul Meier led off the winning rally in the eighth with a base hit, his second of the game, and Bill Starr forced him at second as an attempted sacrifice failed.

Runners Advance

Jim Koerner singled to center. Both runners advanced to second and third when the ball was misplayed in the outfield. Bill Becker was then passed intentionally to load the bases.

Pete Snyder popped up for the second out, but Paul Mix hit a grounder that went through second baseman Greg Schumacher's legs and the game was over as Starr scored.

Becker allowed just two hits, struck out nine, and walked three. Only two Oshkosh runners got as far as third base, and only one other made it safely to second.

Oshkosh State Decisions Ripon

RIPON (AP) — Oshkosh exploded for four runs in the seventh inning in nailing down a 13-10 victory over Ripon Wednesday in a non-conference baseball meeting.

Ron Imoye hit a two-run homer for Oshkosh, while Sid Frame contributed a three-run blast for Ripon.

4 Former Braves Play Major Roles In Tiger Triumph

Detroit Tops Cleveland, 5-2; Washington Beats Pierce, 7-2

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Detroit's winter trade with Milwaukee that brought outfielder Billy Bruton, catcher Dick Brown, pitcher Terry Fox and infielder Chuck Cotter for Frank Bolling may turn out to be the steal of the year.

All four ex-Braves played important roles in the Tigers' 5-2 triumph over Cleveland Wednesday, lifting them into second place in the American League, one game in back of the surprising Minnesota Twins.

Bruton rapped a pair of singles and scored Detroit's first two runs. Brown also had two singles. Cotter drove in the final run of the Tigers' winning four-run rally in the eighth. Fox got credit for the Tiger victory.

The most important blow, however, was delivered by Steve Boros. The rookie third baseman racked a three-run double off reliever Frank Funk to spoil the Indians' home opener. Three bases on balls set the stage for Boros' game-winning blow.

Beats Chisox

In the only other game played in the American League, Washington defeated the Chicago White Sox 7-2. Ram forced the postponement of the Minnesota-Red Sox game in Boston, and the Los Angeles-Yankee game in New York and Kansas City at Baltimore.

Marty Kutyna, a pickup from Kansas City last December, pitched six scoreless relief innings against the White Sox, and singled across two runs in the fourth to give the Senators a 4-2 lead. He yielded only four hits after replacing starter Ed Hoerl in the third to get the victory.

Billy Pierce, who yielded for a punchhitter in the fourth, was the White Sox starter and loser.

One of Chicago's runs was driven in by Joe Martin with a single.

Rocket, Terror Trackmen Open Outdoor Season

Fond du Lac Will Also Compete at Neenah Friday

The 1961 Neenah and Appleton High School track teams get their first tastes of formal outdoor competition Friday afternoon.

Fond du Lac, the third contestant in the triangular test, has already had its baptism — a jolting one though it may have been. The Cards fell to West Bend, 77-13 to 40-23, in a dual meet Tuesday.

Friday's meet, on the Neenah track, begins at 4 p.m.

In the teams' 3-way battle last year, Fond du Lac garnered 65 points for first place. AHS and Neenah scored 56 and 43, respectively.

Burton a Threat

The meet will give Harland Carl and Ray Kinziger, respective coaches at Neenah and AHS, their first real chance to evaluate material for the heavy outdoor campaign ahead. The teams' only previous competition was of the indoor variety — in the Madison West relays. The Terrors scored 12 points — on two third place relays finishes, while the Rockets earned two points.

Neenah's Dave Burton, one of four lettermen, placed fourth in the high jump at Madison, and will be a threat Friday in that event and in the hurdles.

Jim Hammill, freshman miler, ran a good 4:53.8 in the West relays.

Winn Zimmerman, who placed second and third in the dashes in last year's triangular, will be a top threat in this year's meet.

Weber Returns

AHS has strength in the relays, and also figures to be tough in such other events as the 880 (with Bill Weber) and the high jump (with Gene Bloedorn). Weber won the 880 in last year's 3-way meet with Neenah and Fondy.

AHS's mile hope will be Phil Nordgren, who ran a 4:55 in Madison.

Fondy scored only four firsts against West Bend Jim Gilmore won in both the high hurdles (157) and the 440 (53.5) and the Bruce Swenson paced the losers Cardinals' 880 and sprint medley with a 79. None of the other visiting units also triumphed.

Dodgers Top Cards On 2 'Moon-Shots'

Wally Has 6 Homers In 8 Games

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Any day now they'll be calling sliced home runs over the left field screen in the Los Angeles Coliseum "moon-shots." That's because the Dodgers' southpaw swinging Wally Moon appears to have perfected the art of dumping fly balls for homers in that sector.

Moon has hit six home runs in eight games, all over the Coliseum's 42-foot-high left field screen, only 251 feet from home plate. The Dodge outfielder, an honor student at Texas A&M some years ago, claims a newly perfected "reverse english" swing has been largely responsible for his sudden rash of homers.

In any event, Wally struck two of those "moon-shots" Wednesday night to lead the Dodgers to a 7-2 triumph over the St. Louis Cardinals. The first homer came with two on in the first inning. The second was a solo flight in the fourth. He walked in the sixth and slashed a run-scoring single—to center—in the seventh to account for five runs batted in with a perfect evening at the plate.

Two Straight

Cincinnati made it two straight over San Francisco with a 4-2 triumph and retained first place in the National League. Pittsburgh climbed into second place with a 4-1 victory over Chicago. Ram stopped Milwaukee and Philadelphia for the second straight day.

Don Drysdale, although tagged for nine hits, went all the way

St. Norbert's Green Knights broke up a 4-4 game with four runs in the top half of the seventh inning Wednesday and defeated Lawrence, 9-4, at Goodland Field.

The non-conference loss opened the season for the Vikings. St. Norbert is now 1-1. Lawrence plays host to Beloit for two Midwest Conference games Saturday afternoon.

Appleton native Denny Verbrick spaced nine hits Wednesday to pick up the victory. The left-hander struck out nine, walked four and hit one batter.

The loser was Vike starter Jim Schulze. He gave up eight runs on 11 hits and seven walks, striking

Packer Season Ticket Renewal Cards Mailed

Post-Crescent News Service

GREEN BAY — "Dear Season ticket holder:

"Enclosed you will find your 1961 season ticket renewal card.

And so the letter read—the letter from the Green Bay Packers and signed by "Vince Lombardi, head coach and general manager."

These letters arrived in the hands of season ticket holders this week and purchasers are asked to return the enclosed renewal cards by May 1. The neat first class message contains the letter, renewal card and a seating manifest for City Stadium here and County Stadium in Milwaukee.

If fans enclose their remittance, the tickets will be mailed to them. Buyers also can have the Packers bill them.

In addition, a time-payment plan can be worked out with either the Green Bay or Milwaukee ticket office, Lombardi wrote.

The letter advertises a big package, as it were—seven home league games, including four in Green Bay, and a non-league game in each city, the Shrine classic in Milwaukee vs. the Bears Aug. 26 and the first annual Bishop's Charities game vs. the Giants here Labor Day night.

Additional Seats

Lombardi also pointed out the additional seats available at each County with 1,010; Outagamie park and added: "We have already received more than 2,000 new orders for the 1961 season in tickets were sold within a radius of 50 air miles of the stadium."

Vince noted the big job ahead. "National Football League history proves that to repeat a division championship is a most difficult assignment. However, the Packers have only one primary objective—victory. Victory cannot be achieved by anything less than complete dedication. I can promise you that dedication."

As a closer, Lombardi expressed appreciation: "Thank you for helping us set the all-time attendance record of over 200,000 in 1960."

Over 31,000

Slightly over 31,000 season tickets were sold for four league games in Green Bay's 32,250-seat stadium last year and it's expected that this figure will be passed in 1961, what with the addition of 6,200 new seats.

The Packers made a survey recently to determine where season tickets for the games in Green Bay are sold. The survey was based on the all-time record sale of 31,000 seasons.

Brown County, which houses Green Bay, accounted for an astonishing 18,890 season tickets — well over half. These purchases, of course, include "group" purchases by business and industry.

Only three other counties purchased over 1,000 — Milwaukee additional seats available at each County with 1,010; Outagamie park and added: "We have already received more than 2,000 new orders for the 1961 season in tickets were sold within a radius of 50 air miles of the stadium."

Eino Oksanen Wins Boston Marathon

Finn Defeats America's Kelley By 125 Yards

BOSTON (AP)—Eino Oksanen is a tight-lipped police detective whose persistent methods have extended Finland's domination of the Boston A. A. Marathon to three straight years.

For the second time in the last three tests, the 30-year-old Helsinki native used endurance and strategy to defeat America's Johnny Kelley.

However, the heroic role was reserved for third place Englishman Fred Norris who helped Kelley to his feet when the latter was spilled by a stray dog 10 miles from the end.

In a carbon copy of his 1959 performance when he conquered similar bone-chilling cold to whip Kelley in a 22:42, Oksanen again bid his time in a stride-for-stride duel with the Grotton, Conn., schoolteacher until he was sure his move to the front would not give his adversary time to recover.

This time Oksanen moved ahead by 10 yards with half a mile to go and won by 125 yards. The clockings: Oksanen 22:29, Kelley 22:54, Norris 23:46.

Dressen Not Too Worried

Feels Weather Hasn't Hampered Milwaukee Much

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Manager Charles Dressen of Milwaukee doesn't appear overly concerned about the weather, which has forced postponement of three games in a row or the last-place standing of his Braves.

Dressen brims with confidence that his Braves will overcome their slow start and win the National League pennant just as soon as he starts getting some hitting.

Dressen, who complained last year that a rapid succession of postponed games fouled up his pitching rotation and hurt the Braves' pennant chances, said today the fact that the Braves have been idle for four days hasn't hurt them much, not so far.

"They haven't been hitting, so maybe a few days off might help," he said.

The Braves were snowed out at Chicago Sunday and idle Monday. Rain and cold weather forced postponement of games against Philadelphia Tuesday night and Wednesday night.

Yesterday's Stars

Wally Moon, Dodgers, drove in five runs with a pair of homers and a single as the Dodgers defeated the Cardinals, 7-2. Moon now has hit six homers in eight games.

Bob Friend, Pirates, permitted only three hits, striking out seven in registering his second victory as the Pirates defeated the Cubs, 4-1.

Louisville, Ky. — Cassius Clay, 192, Louisville, knocked out Lamar Clark, 181½, Cedar City, Utah, 2.

Manila — Art Persley, 139, Red Cross, La., knocked out Ryukichi Fukuchi, 142½, Japan, 1.

14 Fox Cities Area Gridders Indicate Interest in Chiefs

Player interest in the Manitoba Chiefs continues high in the Fox River Valley area.

Coach Hal Haberman said 14 players from the Fox Cities area attended a recruitment meeting in Menasha Wednesday night and 3 more indicated they were interested in joining the semi-pro football club. Two years ago a similar meeting was held for players from that area and no one showed up.

Last week 42 prospective players from the Green Bay-DePere area either attended a meeting at Green Bay or sent word they were interested in playing. A meeting at Green Bay four years ago brought out three players. Among those at Wednesday's meeting were linemen Les Schultz of Kaukauna, who played at St. Norbert College, Ed Felauer, all-state lineman on last year's Appleton High team; Paul Mix, star lineman from Menasha St. Mary's; fullback Bob Jensen, St. Mary's; Gary Panzier, Oshkosh State end; and Bob Smith, Lawrence College lineman.

Dick Montanati, Ripon College end and back, sent word that he plans to play next year. He played high school ball at St. Mary's.

The Chiefs play in the Tri-States League.

Willie Mays of the San Francisco Giants begins his sixth-inning slide into second base at San Francisco's Candlestick Park. The play ended in a collision with Cincinnati Red second baseman Elio Chacon, left. Chacon received a gash over the right knee and had to be helped off the field. The Reds won Wednesday's game, 4-2.

Wally Moon Hits 2 More Home Runs

for the Dodgers, to record his second victory against one defeat. Ernie Broglio was the loser.

Bob Friend pitched a three-hitter and Dick Groat, Bob Skinner, and Roberto Clemente each had two hits in the Pirate victory over the Cubs. Ernie Banks' home run in the seventh spoiled a shutout bid by Friend who registered his second triumph. The Pirates put the game on ice in the sixth, rocking right-hander Bob Anderson for three runs.

Eddie Kasko's scoring single sparked a two-run ninth that enabled the Reds to snap a 2-2 tie with the Giants. Rookie right-hander Ken Hunt worked eight innings and won his first major league start. Jack Sanford was the loser.

Young Bob Hendley Rates as 'Untouchable,' Says Braves' McHale

Phillies Want Southpaw Put in On Farrell Deal

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Milwaukee Braves have put an "untouchable" tag on Bob Hendley, a young southpaw who has yet to throw a ball in the major leagues.

Milwaukee General Manager John McHale declared that Hendley is unavailable Wednesday after the Phillies reportedly demanded that the left-hander be included with shortstop Johnny Logan in a deal for relief ace Dick Farrell.

"We can't trade away our future," McHale said after a meeting with Philadelphia General Manager John Quinn.

Recently Discharged

Recently discharged after a six-month tour in the Army, Hendley is getting into shape with the Louisville Colonels in the American Association. He probably will be called up by the Braves as soon as he's ready.

Hendley, who will be 22 on April 30, had a 16-9 record with Louisville last year. He added four more victories as the Colonels swept through the playoffs and the Little World Series.

Quinn placed Farrell in the same category as relievers Eloy "Face" of the Pittsburgh Pirates and Lindy McDaniel of the St. Louis Cardinals and said:

"If we're trading one of the 1-2-3 relief pitchers in the league, we'll have to get two players to put the Phillies on the move. I'm speaking of front line players."

Another Talk

While McHale and Quinn scheduled another talk for today, Logan reiterated he hopes to remain with the Braves.

"I hope we get out of this town real fast" the veteran shortstop said.

"I appreciate the fact that another club wants me, but I want to stay in Milwaukee," Logan said. "And not only because we're a pennant contender. I've given the best years of my baseball life to the Braves."

Logan, who lost his job to Roy McMillan, said it is "rough sitting on the bench" but expressed confidence he would be back in the starting lineup soon.

"I have a feeling that not only will I be playing short for the Braves this year, but next season, too," he declared.

Bert Bell Jr. Hired by Colts For Office Job

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Baltimore Colts organization confirmed Wednesday the hiring of Bert Bell Jr., son of the late commissioner of the National Football League.

There was no official announcement, but a Colt spokesman said Bell joined the Colts' ticket office on Monday.

Before coming to Baltimore, he was affiliated with the National Football League office and was in charge of arranging the league's schedule.

Colt officials said Bell, whose father first interested owner Carroll Rosenbloom in the Baltimore franchise, wants to learn the operation of professional football at the club level.

Scott Wins 6 of First 8 Pro Decisions

A successful collegiate-pro season in 1960 earned pitcher George "Bob" Scott his chance with the "61 Fox Cities Foxes."

After helping Oklahoma State gain a berth in the National Collegiate baseball tournament, Scott signed with the Baltimore organization for a modest bonus.

In his first professional assignment, he pitched a half-season for Stockton, compiling a 6-2 record in the Class C circuit.

The 6-foot-1 right-hander corralled a 3.46 earned run average while striking out 76 and walking 45 in 91 innings. The 23-year-old Scott lives in Midwest City, Okla.

MINNOWS FROM COLD, SWIFT, HIGHLY-AERATED STREAMS ARE LESS HARDY IN CAPTIVITY THAN THOSE THAT INHABIT WARMER PONDS, ETC., CONTAINING LESS OXYGEN. Chisox Rookie J. C. Martin Gets His First Hits of Season

CHICAGO (AP)—J. C. Martin, pound native of Axton, Va., has been on the spot since the Sox Chicago White Sox, said today traded off Gene Freese last winter and decided to gamble all the way on the 24-year-old Martin.

Hitting Ball Square

"I've been hitting the ball square," said Martin, sweaty and panting after an hour's post-game batting drill ordered by Lopez for the entire Sox club after the home opener defeat.

"I think I really might have done a lot of good for everybody concerned if I had slammed a hit my first time up yesterday," said the left-handed hitting Martin. He was referring to a bases-loaded situation when he drove a solid blow to center which was caught to end the inning.

However, the next time up, Martin poked a single which shoved over the second White Sox run in the third inning to whittle Washington's lead to 4-2.

Again, in the eighth inning, Martin poked a single with one out which went wasted.

Harold Johnson In 'Top Shape' For Oliveri Bout

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Pat Oliveri, manager of Harold Johnson, National Boxing Association light heavyweight champion, said today the 32-year-old veteran is in "top shape" for his first title defense against Von Clay at the arena Monday night.

And Oliveri predicted that the scheduled 15-round fight wouldn't go more than six rounds with Johnson knocking out the 21-year-old Clay.

Both Johnson and Clay took off from training today for their pre-fight physical examination at the Pennsylvania State Athletic Commission offices.

While Johnson has been training here, Clay has been working out in nearby Pleasantville, N. J.

Twins Welcomed by 2,000 Fans at Airport

ST. PAUL-MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — The motor coughed, sputtered and died out. Attendants rolled the unloading platform to the plane.

When the first of the Minnesota Twins appeared in the doorway of the four-engined charter craft, a huge roar went up from about 2,000 youngsters, parents and other interested spectators.

Their American League leading Minnesota Twins had returned home. The first major league game in the Twin Cities will be played Friday and the fans want to make sure the ballplayers know everyone is behind them.

Youngsters bolted from the observation platform to a nearby roof to get a better view of their heroes. Parents hoisted smaller children to their shoulders to see the men they'd heard so much about.

Get Up Front

"I'd better get up front quick," one man said. "If my boy doesn't get to see Harmon Killebrew, he won't let me alone for a week."

The players trooped down the platform and each was greeted by a kiss from a set of pretty twins waiting on the runway. Next came the reporters and the photographers and then the bubbling kids.

The team then trooped through the airport lobby so the rest of the fans could get in a pat on the back and a handshake. As each player threaded his way through the jammed lobby, the crowd responded with cheers and hand-claps.

When the Twins emerged, it was clear on their faces that they really appreciated the reception.

"Are there a lot of pretty girls in there, Bill," a fan asked Billy Consolo.

"There sure are," answered the Twins utility infielder. "I've been through five times already."

"I've already gone through three times," chimed in Don Lee, 28 a big right-handed pitcher who is currently on the injury list.

Over in one corner of the runway, Paul Giel and Fred Bruckbauer stood talking.

Giel Happy

"It sure is good to get back to Minnesota," said Giel, from Winona, a former All-America football player and pitcher at the University of Minnesota. "I consider this a great break.
